GC Council adopts new sales tax

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record
Granite City aldermen Tuesday suspended rules requiring a second reading of new ordinances and gave unanimous approval to a 3/4-percent Granite City sales tax on collections scheduled to begin the first of the year. All 14 aldermen were present.

The tax should raise about $900,000 a year, according to Mayor Paul Schuler, but is not expected to keep the city from ending this fiscal year in debt.

In a heated debate with Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman of the Second Ward, the mayor said the city could not completely depend on a sales tax for support when the first sales tax had been successfully challenged once and could be declared illegal again. When the mayor first proposed the sales tax to aldermen two weeks ago, he called a sales tax a "regressive tax on those least able to pay" and created a hardship for those who sold "large ticket items," such as cars, but stated city officials are faced with "unalterable" facts.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, one of four councilmen voting against a previous one-percent sales tax, acknowledged his initial opposition, but said he is now convinced the city needs additional revenue. "Our finances just go down and, with city (expenditures) up, we could go way down," Whitmer said.

Whitmer said employees in the city's financial department told him that the council should "do something fast" to help the city. Even with a sales tax, a proposed $3 per-month per-employee tax on employers and a 5 percent telephone tax, the city still may not be able to meet its payroll this fiscal year, Whitmer said.

The council, however, approved the sales tax without discussing personnel cuts, which some aldermen had said at earlier meetings must accompany added taxes.

The 3/4-percent sales tax ordinance, officials listed the Granite City Sales Tax distinguishes itself from the one percent Supplemental Retailers' Occupation Tax declared unconstitutional by clearly stating the tax is imposed on the purchaser.

The tax limits the added 3/4-percent charge to the first $500 of the selling price of an item, putting a $3.75 limit on each retail sale. Bill Woodrome, one of two automobile dealers who had challenged the tax in court, had requested a $500 ceiling before he filed his complaint against the first sales tax.

"I feel there will probably be legal action again," Woodrome predicted Wednesday, the day after the new sales tax was passed. Woodrome said a $3.75 maximum tax would not hurt his car sales, but said other merchants he has been in contact with think they could lose business. Woodrome said he has held discussions with several large retailers in the city.

"I have a feeling the sales tax will be challenged, whether by one of them or one of the other merchants," Woodrome said.

Woodrome said he has the support of the Illinois New Car and Truck Dealers Association, which has been "following very closely" the progress of attempts to impose a sales tax here. Woodrome said the association is interested in the case on a state-wide basis.

We said both he and the association feel a uniform state sales tax is important to "keep competitive."

Woodrome, who formed The Committee for Prevention of Excessive City Taxes, said donations to that group to fight a city sales tax have been less than $2,000 if the contributions of new

Luxury, telephone taxes?

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler now considers "a dead issue" the proposed $3-per-month employer tax on employees and plans to resurrect a one percent luxury tax after aldermen feared an employee head tax would discourage industry.

Aldermen voted 8 to 5 Wednesday to defeat a motion by ordinance committee chairman Thomas Brimberry of the Third Ward to suspend council rules and pass the Employers' Expense Tax on first reading. Voting against suspending the rules were Aldermen Warren Decatur, Fred "Pat" Schuman, Paul Ray Bowler, Mac Warfield, Mike Modrusic, Sharon Perjak, Jake Varadian and Stephen Salitch. Mrs. Margaret Nonn was absent.

Aldermen also defeated a motion to suspend the rules to vote for final passage of a 5 percent tax on telephones, but voted 10 to 4 to place the tax on first reading. The only ones against the motion were Schuman, Bowler, Modrusic and Mrs. Perjak.

The city council meeting room was packed with spectators, some, intermittently shouting questions to the mayor and aldermen. The mayor was interrupted in his explanation of the controversial employee tax to the audience by an angry man who said a tax imposed on American Steel or Granite City Steel would affect anyone who works at those plants.

"Somehow it will come down to us,"

Partney leaving post

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record
Daniel J. Partney, Madison County Board member from Granite City District 21, will cease his service on the county board when his current term expires, a year from now.

Partney, 31, said he decided about two months ago not to seek re-election, due to marital problems, and he encouraged Granite City's Street Superintendent, Lionel Portelli, to run for the District 21 County Board seat.

Portelli, however, announced plans earlier this month to accept a job in St. Peters, Mo., and will move his family there, so he did not file for the post. Three candidates did file by the deadline Monday afternoon for the seat Partney is vacating on the County Board — Robert Gaughen, Vasil Eftimov and Joseph McGinness Sr. Partney, who allegedly is under federal investigation because of comments made by Thomas Brimberry of Granite City, former senior vice-president of the defunct Stix & Co. brokerage firm in St. Louis, said his decision not to seek re-election had nothing to do with Brimberry's allegations.

"That wasn't a factor. It was due to marital problems. We figure that when my term expires next December, we (he and his ex-wife, Beverly Partney) will have settled our property and, if she gets the house, I might not be living in that district," Partney explained.

"There is a lot of uncertainty. In order to be on the county board from one district, you have to live in the boundaries of that district. I have to get this behind me. It is going to be a hell of a hassle," Partney added.

He said his problems stemming from his recent divorce compounded Monday when a St. Clair County judge awarded custody of their 3-year-old son to the mother. Partney said he will appeal that ruling and the property settlement judgment.

He indicated he may be spending

Demos pick Painter

(Related story on Page 32)
Fred Painter, 35, of 1405 Grand Ave., Granite City, was endorsed for the county treasurer nomination Monday night by the Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

Failing to gain endorsements were County Treasurer Michael "Mike" Henkhaus of Bethalto and Edwardsville Supervisor Robert C. Shille, a treasurer candidate.

All had appeared for interviews with party chiefs during the weekend. The three are contenders for the same nomination in the March 16 primary election.

A four-year treasurer term will be decided in the November 1982 election. Bob Barton, operator of a local real estate firm, is the lone Republican county treasurer candidate.

Painter, formerly on the county treasurer's staff for seven years, will be the Illinois secretary of state for the last six years. His title in the driver services department is regional manager and his work includes supervision of 50 employees at eight driver license facilities.

Other endorsements announced by County Democratic Chairman Christ Costoff of Madison included Third Circuit Clerk Willard "Butch" Portelli of Collinsville for state senator in the 55th District; Sheriff Elvin Toffant of Madison; Congressman Melvin Price of Belleville in the new 21st District; and State Sen. Sam Stif, Vandalia, in the Edwardsville in the 21st. All have or are expected to have primary open position.

County filing, ended Monday; legislative filing will take place Dec. 28 to Jan. 4.

Also endorsed by the county Democratic party were six unopposed statewide Democratic candidates. The ticket will be led by Adlai Stevenson for governor; he is the son of the late Adlai Stevenson, Illinois governor from 1948 to 1952.

Continuing down the ballot, Costoff announced the county committee's endorsements of State Representatives Sam Wolf of Granite City (new 111th District), Jim McPike of Alton (new 112th), Michael Slape of Pocahtontas (new 116th) and Gary Hannig of Macoupin County (new 98th); State Sen. Vince Demuzio of Carlinville in the 49th District; unopposed Madison County Educational Service Region Supt. Harold E. "Gene" Briggs of Nameki Township; and State Central

County debating cable 'porn'

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

"Everyone on the Madison County Board is against pornography, but many on the board do not want to shoulder the task of evaluating and regulating it on cable television, a board discussion indicated Wednesday.

By an 11-9 vote, it was decided to refer a proposal by Board Member William R. Haine to the Legislative Committee and the Madison County state's attorney's staff.

Welcoming the referral, Haine said he hopes to see the county enact an ordinance prohibiting dissemination of obscenity or pornography on cable TV. He said the county government has authority to enter this field because it authorizes cable franchises.

Board Member Louis Whitsell of Ponton Beach said he is against obscenity but asked who would determine what is obscene, who would enforce the standard, who would finance the enforcement work, and whether it would be necessary to establish a committee that would screen television programs. Whitsell said it would be sounder to ban X-rated telecasts, leaving it up to national rating authorities to evaluate the content of motion pictures. He noted that "each family has the power to change channels, turn off its TV set, or have cable equipment removed from its home."

Haine said he is convinced the public system, and networks be used to promote entertainment, sporting events, movies and plays that are consistent with traditional public morality.

His resolution pointed out that "cable TV is a medium easily viewed by children, even children of tender years."

The resolution continued by saying obscene and pornographic materials promote or display rape, molestation or violence—all to the detriment of the public's safety and welfare—and "degrade women and encourage attitudes of hatred, abuse or hostility toward women, denying them dignity as citizens."

"The public policy of Madison County should be to prohibit the dissemination of any obscene or pornographic materials through any county-franchised telecommunications system."

"Be it resolved that the County Board amend its ordinance to prohibit such materials, consistent with statutes of Illinois and laws of the United States."

Haine proposed banning the transmission of pictures or sounds related to acts normal or perverted, actual or simulated; abusive actions; torture; and violent acts accompanied by rape, brutality or sensuality.

He called such audio-visual effects "patently offensive under contemporary community standards."

With a proposed penalty of up to $500 for each violation, he said a person could be regarded as acting knowingly if he had knowledge of the character or nature of the material involved.

"A person is presumed to have knowledge of the material if that person has actual notice of the nature of such material, regardless of whether there is precise notice of its contents."

Haine said a conviction for violation of the proposed ordinance would constitute grounds for revocation of a cable franchise.

He cited State 38-11-20 as covering the offense of obscenity and 38-11-20a as dealing with the offense of child pornography.

Haine said he would appreciate ideas for development of a proper and lawful ban, from both the state's attorney's office and from James Heil, legislative chairman, whom he said was in-

1st snowstorm hits

Winter has not yet officially arrived here, but the Quad-City area today has the look of some of the scenes on holiday greeting cards. A mantle of white covers everything. Snow on Wednesday afternoon intensified during the evening, and wind added to problems associated with the cold weather. Some motorists had trouble opening ice-encrusted auto doors this morning and many were late to work due to slippery streets. The first of numerous reports of youngsters throwing snowballs was noted at 6:20 p.m. at Edwards and Henry streets. The children were "located and warned" there and at some other locations. In other instances, authorities were unable to locate those throwing snow.

At 9 p.m. Wednesday, a car skidded (Continued on Page 6)

Select safe toys this Christmas

By FRANK CHAPPELL
Science News Editor
American Medical Association

Santa Claus is coming soon. And that means that Dad and Mother are out shopping for some of the toys that old St. Nick will leave under the tree for youngsters of the family.

Toys — all the way from a rubber ball to a shiny new bike — are a part of growing up. The child without a toy or two — or two dozen — at Christmas is a forelorn lot indeed.

The chances are that your youngsters will open their gifts Christmas morning and have a large time getting acquainted with their new toys.

But in all too many households across the nation, the toys themselves will dim the happy Christmas season by causing accidents and injuries.

The American Medical Association offers some simple tips for selecting toys that will help insure a completely happy Christmas

1. Beware of small toys that can be swallowed, flammable toys and toys with rough or sharp edges.

2. All electric toys should be safe. Look for the safety approval label on the cord and on the toy itself.

3. Avoid toys made of lead or colored with lead-based paints. You're unlikely to encounter these today, as the dangers of lead poisoning are well known. But it's wise to be safe.

4. Baby's toys should be too large to put in the mouth, washable, lightweight and non-brittle.

Eye injuries are a particular hazard from Christmas toys. Sling shots, air rifles, archery sets and even the spring-action toy pistols that propel sticks capped with rubber cups have caused eye injuries.

The air rifle, or B-B gun, is still a threat, even though its use is forbidden in many communities.

If you give your child an air rifle, impress upon him the danger of the ricochet.

Many air rifle injuries come from the small shot bouncing off a fence post or the side of a house.

A target backed with a bag of sand or straw is a must for air rifle marksmen.

Christmas tree ornaments, particularly the strings of small lights, are potential

Academic scholarships of $500 and $1,000 offered by St. Louis University are available to local community college graduates. An additional $500 scholarship is available for those who wish to attend the university's School of Social Service.

for spring 1982 may still do so. The social service scholarships are awarded in the fall only.

Students must have achieved at least a 3.0 grade point average (4.0 scale) for at least 60 hours of transferable credit. Scholarships are renewable for a second year if the recipient maintains full-time status and a minimum 3.0 grade point average at the University.

Community college graduates attending St. Louis University on scholarships awarded for this fall include from Belleville Area College, Ruth Elias, John Goldschmidt and Peter Merzian.

Prospective applicants may contact SLU's coordinator of transfer services, 1-314-658-2370, for details.

Some tips on keeping Christmas tree fresh

By MARY RICHARDS
Most of us are rushing against time to have everything ready by Christmas. But try to keep in mind when you're racing against the clock and the calendar, that it's easy to overlook simple precautions that might help avert a holiday tragedy.

The Christmas tree can be particularly hazardous, so the Illinois Department of Public Health has some advice they hope you will keep in mind when selecting and storing your tree.

If you choose a live tree, the first thing you want to do is lift it to feel its weight. If the tree is good and heavy for its height, that means it's still full of sap and will stay fresh and moist longer.

Never buy a frozen tree if you can avoid it, but if you have no choice, thaw it out in a cool, sheltered area. The branches and needles will dry out if the tree thaws rapidly.

The important thing to remember is that you want to maintain the moisture content of the tree for as long as you possibly can. There are several things you can do to improve the tree's chances of staying fresh through the holidays.

As soon as you can, after you get the tree home, cut an inch or two off the bottom of the trunk. This should be a diagonal cut in order to keep the tree from standing flat in the bottom of the stand. Immerse a few inches of the trunk in the water, so the tree cells will not seal over. If the cells seal over, water will not move up through the branches and needles.

The ideal place to store the tree before you move it into the house is in an unheated garage or basement. If you don't have a garage or basement, store it in a cool place where it won't freeze, out of drafts and covered — preferably with opaque plastic — so it won't get wet.

You have probably heard that adding certain chemicals, including sugar, to the water will prolong the freshness of your tree. State horticulturists have tested these chemicals and have found them to be of questionable, if any, value. In fact, some of these additives can even hasten the drying out of the tree.

Be sure that the tree trunk is always sitting in water. Moisture can evaporate quite rapidly in the dry, over-heated air which is present in most homes in the winter time. Check the tree stand every day, and refill it as the water evaporates.

The state health department urges you to take the time to follow these suggestions. By doing so, you may avoid a hazardous situation that could spoil your holidays.

School cafeteria director will retire; assistant is employed

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

The Granite City School Board on Tuesday night accepted the retirement plans of O. L. Overhuler, director of cafeterias, effective June 4, 1982, and hired an assistant cafeteria director.

Head of the school district's hot lunch program for the past nine years, Overhuler said, "I have enjoyed my work and I will leave many friends. Thank you, Supt. B. J. Davis, board members and all employees of District Nine for the friendship, kindness and support you have given me through the years."

Jeanette Hoedebecke is leaving employment in the district because she has become executive secretary in Special Education Region I. She served as attendance secretary at Granite City High School South before joining the Quad-City special education region.

John Hutchings is resigning as Logan School intramural sports director effective Jan. 15.

Anne Madrid, Lake School

lower intermediate teacher, will be on leave of absence from Jan. 8 to June 4 due to illness.

Named to the new position of assistant director of food services was Michael Kanak, who will be paid at a yearly rate of $17,500. He began his duties today.

Kanak, a resident of Cahokia, has experience that includes hospitals' food programs in St. Louis County.

As is indicated on Page 4 of today's Press-Record, an initial decision was made Tuesday night to cancel the next regular board meeting on Jan. 5.

However, it was decided later to meet on Jan. 5. The agenda, that night will not be as thick as usual, due to the school holiday period, but an official meeting will be held and board members also will appear for applicants for a new position, custodial supervisor.

Plans call for the custodial supervisor, when the position is filled, to report to Ronald Landman, director of buildings and grounds. The board granted retroactive pay totaling $9,593 for past and present school matrons. Ten women employed during the 1978-81 period will receive portions of the total.

A new rate of pay, equal for men custodians and women matrons, went into effect with the current custodial agreement retroactive to July 1, 1981.

Previously, matrons received less than custodians. After discussions with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, it was decided to reimburse the ten to cover the previous two-year time span.

The board decided to set the annual salary of Steve Balen, special education region director, at $28,731 plus retirement pay, and the yearly pay of Stu Mills, special education supervisor, at $26,696 plus retirement pay.

The board authorized Supt. Davis to engage an attorney to represent the district on an insurance matter. If a hearing officer, who upheld the suspension of a student.

For high school cafeterias, it was decided to charge 85 cents each for chicken salad sandwiches, pizzaburgers and sloppy Joe sandwiches. The former prices, respectively, were 75, 80 and 75 cents.

At all school cafeterias, 90 cents will be the price for fish, formerly $1, and 90 cents also will be the price of spaghetti and meat sauce or lasagna, formerly 85 and 95 cents, respectively.

At all cafeterias, pizza will cost 85 instead of 80 cents, and cake and crisps will be 45 cents, instead of 30 and 50 cents, respectively.

Chouteau residents to 'clean-up' property

by DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Nine homeowners in Chouteau Township were sent letters from the Madison County Building and Zoning department ordering them to conform to the law and county regulations in conjunction with cleaning debris, removing derelict automobiles, or seeking permits to either renovate existing buildings or replace their structures on property within the township.

Copies of the letters signed by Paul F. Hawkins, county zoning administrator, were read at a meeting of the Chouteau Township Board of Trustees Monday night.

The inquiry relating to one of the properties was to verify a permit for a garage on the site, as the only known permit was for a 5-year period for the mobile home located there, which did not include a garage.

A permit was denied to another man to house 15 domestic pets on the premises, according to the letter read during the meeting.

In other business, Mrs. Patricia Polley read a letter from Jim Edgar, Illinois secretary of state, on the new "drunk driving" law. She displayed an informational folder prepared by the state office and the trustees agreed to purchase 50 folders to be distributed through the township office.

On advice of the township's attorney, Allen Walker, the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department's request for payment of $2,300 for labor and equipment to complete repairs at the fire hall, can be fulfilled, since the department did secure bids for the work.

Walter "Dick" Sparks, Chouteau Township supervisor, announced that 1982 taxes were received by the township in the amount of $2,314 for the town fund and $3,922 for the road and bridge fund. Also, a letter from the IRS gave an estimated tax amount to arrive soon totaling $27,845 for the road and bridge fund and $21,730 for the town fund, which will be the final payment for the year, Sparks said.

After a discussion on $1,500 in delinquent ambulance bills by township residents, the board of trustees agreed to have AAA Credit Service, Granite City, pursue the collection of a bill for $234 owed by Lakeview Drive residents, and, if necessary, to initiate court proceedings for collection of the debt.

Sparks then explained the township does assist people in paying ambulance fees when the patients are financial unable to assume the debt, but not for those who are able to pay the charges.

The Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission sent a communication announcing tentative plans to organize a financial program to assist small businesses with supplemental loans. They would supplement larger amounts granted from banks or other lending institutions. The project is still in the planning stages and is being considered as a economic recovery venture for the small businessman, according to the notice.

The South Roxana Fire Department was granted approval to use the remaining $1,150 from an earlier township grant to purchase a water tank, steel and other materials needed to mount the tank on a reconditioned fire truck.

Sparks also told the trustees he has talked with State Sen. Sam Vadala about the proposed annexation bill and Vadala has agreed to introduce the bill

Venice children to present operetta

Venice Grade School will present at 7 p.m. tonight in the school auditorium, "Happiness is a Christmas Operetta" by Margaret F. Johnson. The operetta is being directed by Dr. Alice Purdes, Mrs. Helen Purkay and Mrs. Rogers Hefford.

The characters include a family, gingerbread men, talking candy canes and two different choruses with a cast from all the elementary grades.

The program will include numerous Christmas songs, dancing and seasonal-related stories and readings. The Nativity scene will be used for the reading of the Christmas story and the portrayal of the birth of Jesus.

Bamboo lit early bulbs. After trying thousands of materials, Thomas A. Edison hit upon carbonized bamboo for the filament of his electric light bulbs. Some of those antique bulbs can still burn with glowing bamboo.

Idea journal for teachers offered

"Seedbed 10," the latest journal in the continuing series of classroom ideas for teachers, is available at the Teachers' Center Project (TCP) at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The newest edition, compiled and written as part of the 1981 summer session at TCP and edited by Shirley Casey, contains articles, research reports and experiences related to the intellectual growth of children.

The 100-page book offers ideas and activities tested by teachers in their own classrooms.

Tom O'Brien, Center director and professor of education at SIUE, said the idea behind "Seedbed" is a belief that teachers and children are capable of thinking, and that the art is not dying out.

"Seedbed 10" may be ordered at the Teachers' Center Project at SIUE for the cost of printing. Requests should be addressed to SIUE, Box 122, Edwardsville, Ill., 62026, or telephone 1-692-2118.

21 drinking age is reducing accidents

Secretary of State Jim Edgar says a state study to be released soon will show a 12 percent decrease in accidents involving 19 and 20 year-olds since the minimum drinking age was raised to 21 almost two years ago.

Edgar disclosed this finding of a study by the Illinois Department of Transportation while addressing representatives of alcoholic treatment centers attending a statewide "Youth and Alcohol" media awareness kickoff in Springfield, Monday.

"While this is evidence the 21-year-old drinking law is achieving its goal, it could probably be even more effective, lead to fewer accidents, save more lives and prevent more alcohol-related injuries with the help of the "Youth and Alcohol" media program the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism is kicking off.

"Driving habits are developed early. We must get the message out early and often that drinking and driving don't mix. If our young drivers are to develop responsible driving habits, programs like this will play a critical role," Edgar said. The kickoff was held at the Sangamon State University Public Affairs Center and was sponsored by the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism and the Prevention Resource Center.

Studies have shown that 8,000 teen-agers and young adults are killed in drinking-driving accidents and another 40,000 are injured each year.

Edgar also explained actions his office is taking regarding implementation of Illinois' new drunk driving law Jan. 1, 1982. They include an administrative crackdown aimed at reducing the number of special driving permits issued to convicted drunk drivers.

Establishment of a policy regarding courts to report all drunk driving cases where judges order suspension in an effort to identify chronic drunk drivers.

The conducting of more than 40 training seminars by the Secretary of State's Department of Police to explain the new law to local law enforcement officials.

Establishment of a statewide steering committee to coordinate implementation of the new law and prevent unnecessary duplication by state agencies.

Preparation of radio and television public service announcements aimed at enhancing public awareness of the new law.

And distribution of 200,000 brochures explaining the new law to alcoholism treatment personnel, and state and local officials, he explained.

News notes

To prevent a transit deficit for the fiscal year beginning next July, the Bi-State Development Agency will have to consider $7.7 million in bus fare increases or service reductions, John H. Poelker, interim executive director, told the executive committee Wednesday.

Gov. James R. Thompson will call a special legislative session in January to seek approval of a $50 million annual increase in state liquor taxes. He proposes changing varying tax rates on liquor, beer and wine into a single rate based on alcoholic content; added revenue would go to education and mental health.

Illinois' Republicans may seek to delay the March 16 primary election due to their dissatisfaction with new Congressional district boundaries.

INGOT A THEFT CHARGE
Alvin Gordon, 24, Alton, pleaded innocent to theft on Tuesday and his bond was set at $10,000 at a hearing in Granite City. He was arrested at 1:10 a.m. that day near the Niedringhaus Avenue railroad crossing after allegedly removing two 50-pound bundles of aluminum ingots from American Steel Foundries property and placing them in an auto.

strumental in formulating the county's existing cable TV franchise law.

Hell voted for the referral. But when Haine said European countries are showing "hard-core" TV programs, Hell joked that probably a lot of the board members would go on vacations there this spring.

Haine said it was appropriate that the topic was on the agenda immediately after sewers, warning that a "flood tide" of sewage-like vulgarity is inundating the nation and world.

"Maybe I'm like King Canine ordering the North Sea back, but every journey has to start with the first step," Haine commented. He was an unsuccessful candidate for state's attorney last year.

When told that cable companies serving unincorporated areas also feed TV fare to cities in the county, he suggested that a number of governing bodies adopt identical laws to discourage cable pornography.

Cable 'porn'

He compared the regulation of cable franchise firms to the U.S. postal department's rules on what can legally be sent through the mails. Haine conceded that "the courts would make the ultimate decision," but argued that a county TV obscenity law could "create a burden that would force franchised companies to be careful in what they send out on the cable."

Whitell told the board that not everyone defines pornography in the same way.

Haine agreed that the task of coping with pornography is difficult, but said the absence of much effort to fight it has let it spread virtually everywhere. "We must be willing to set standards," he asserted.

Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer indicated approval of the referral motion on a voice vote, but then heard a chorus of negative votes and ordered a roll call.

Voting with Haine and Heil were Roderick Bauder, Anthony Bosich, Fred Dalton, Alan Dunstan, Frank Dutko, Donald McLean, Morris Miles, Richard Peck and Harold Roberts.

Voting with Whitell against preparation of an ordinance were Herschel Beane, Jack Frandsen, Jack Griffin, Homer Henke, George Schmilling, Dorothy Spence, William Webb and Elmer J. Luber of Highland, a newly-appointed board member.

Republican Luber, appointed in District One by Hagnauer and confirmed by the board on the recommendation of O. A. "Pat" Weindel, was sworn in yesterday to replace Weindel, whose resignation was accepted.

Hagnauer was not recorded on the cable TV vote, since there was no deadlock.

Not present at the time of the tally were Charles Bode, Donald Dreith, William Little, Herbert Milton, Daniel Partney, Michael Semashin, James Stalcup and Frank Vivot. Milton was present earlier in the meeting.

Snow storm hits

was ice-covered and dangerous.

With a temperature of 16 degrees this morning, the wind-chill index at times was below zero. More than an inch of snow had fallen.

Traffic backed up this morning on McKinley Bridge when the intersection of 9th and Salsbery streets in St. Louis, at the western end of the bridge, became too slippery for cars to ascend. Crews were attempting to melt the ice at 8:30 a.m. today so the flow of traffic could resume.

Police reported only one minor "fender-bender" during the night and Madison police said the city had tolerated the snow "quietly" with few reports of any kind during the night.

The snow and cold temperatures are to continue until the weekend, and the U.S. Weather Service is predicting a slow warming trend Saturday and Sunday, possibly reaching into the 50s by Monday.

School, work, shopping and pre-holiday preparations must continue—and nearly every Quad-Citizen was up and about today, battling the elements and remaining generally undaunted by the cold weather and ice. Saturday and Sunday still a lot to be cheerful about; after all, Christmas is coming.

Circuit Breaker deadline Dec. 31

Illinois senior citizens have only until the end of December to file for property tax relief under the state's Circuit Breaker property tax relief program. Republican candidate for Comptroller Cal Skinner Jr. is reminding everyone.

"The State really has a pretty good tax relief program for senior citizens renters and homeowners," Skinner, a former state representative, said. "It is a legislative determination that senior citizens and the disabled who earn under $12,000 should have assistance in paying their real estate taxes or that part of rent that goes toward real estate taxes."

"Most seniors have undoubtedly already applied for 1980 property tax relief because the Revenue Department sent out applications forms at the beginning of the year. Those who have yet filed for their Circuit Breaker benefits have only until the end of the month to do so," Skinner said.

Application forms may be obtained from the Department of Revenue in Springfield or Chicago, from most local senior citizen activity centers and from most legislators. Those unable to find the proper forms elsewhere may contact Skinner at 360 S. Madison St., Woodstock, Ill., 60098.

Skinner has taken a special interest in the Circuit Breaker program since it was proposed by Governor Richard Ogilvie in 1972.

Gardening tools need protection from winter

One of the last gardening chores of the year is to clean, oil and sharpen gardening tools and put them safely away for winter, advises James D. Hayward, executive secretary of the Illinois State Nurserymen's Association (ISNA), representing 227 lawn and garden centers.

Protecting your garden tools and equipment is important, because they are seasonal and can be adversely affected when they're not used, Hayward said. Maintaining them before storage is a good way to protect your investment and to get a head start on gardening next spring.

Hayward recommends hanging hand tools on pegboards attached to the walls or door of a shed, garage or basement workshop. But before storing the tools, make sure they're free of dirt, grass clippings and other debris that can accelerate rust, he suggested.

Use a solvent and steel wool to remove any accumulated rust before storing the tools. It's also a good idea to apply a thin coat of oil to metal surfaces such as shovel blades and a coat of wax to wooden handles.

Tighten any loose parts and use a file to smooth out nicks. If wooden handles need replacement, see your garden supply dealer. A number of lawn and garden stores offer a maintenance service for repairing gardening tools. If not, a local nurseryman may be able to recommend a specialty repair shop for particular types of equipment.

Tools, such as shears, with moving parts should be oiled and sharpened before storage, Hayward advised. Homeowners may choose to sharpen many tools themselves. Grass clippers need sharpening when they begin to bend grass and the blades instead of snapping it off neatly. A lawn mower will shorten grass even if its blades are blunt; but the lawn will assume a brown cast after a couple of days because some grass blades have been ripped rather than cut.

The best tool for sharpening lawn-mower and grass-clipper blades, Hayward said, is an ordinary flat file. By removing only small amounts of metal, it helps you avoid over-sharpening blades. You can use a sharpening stone after filing to hone the edges smooth.

Overzealous filing, however, besides being unnecessary work, can ruin tools such as grass clippers, he said. They cut like scissors and too much filing may reshape the blades so they no longer fit closely together.

Rust is a main enemy, especially for power tools. Equipment with electric motors requires little preparation against rust. Just remove grass accumulation, which retain moisture, and lightly coat unpainted exterior metal parts, especially blades, with engine oil.

In gasoline engines, Hayward said, rust is more of a problem. Four-stroke engines, the kind usually found on lawn mowers, rust more easily than the two-stroke engines because of the difference in their fuel supplies. The two-stroke type uses oil mixed with gasoline to lubricate the cylinder while the engine runs, and this has built-in rust protection.

Before storing either kind of engine, Hayward advises draining leftover gasoline from the fuel tank to keep it from evaporating and leaving gummy deposits in the carburetor or fuel line. He suggests the following procedure:

Start the engine and run it until it stops, thus using up any gasoline in the fuel line and carburetor. Drain the oil from a four-stroke engine and fill it with fresh oil. If your engine has a sediment bowl, remove the bowl from the carburetor, wipe it clean and reinstall it. Brush off the engine and lightly coat all unpainted metal parts with engine oil. For more specific details, Hayward advised homeowners to consult their hardware dealers, depending on the particular type and brand of power tools they have.

Homeowners, he said, should also check the spark plugs on engine-driven mowers and other power tools and replace them with new ones, if necessary. It is also a good idea to inspect the air cleaner, axles or wheels and cords on your mower and see if any screws or bolts are missing or need tightening, he said.

"Your lawn tools and equipment represent a major investment," Hayward said. "So it makes sense to take care of them."

Found innocent in cable arrest

Thomas Campbell, 713 N. 26th St., was found innocent Wednesday by Associate Judge Edward Day at Edwardsville on a Sept. 23 charge of failure to pay for cable television. The cable connection originally was made by the franchised company. Testimony indicated Campbell later attempted to have the service disconnected, but that the company did not comply.

An identifying tag missing from the line to the home was blown off by wind. The judge ruled Campbell did not owe for the time period in which monthly payments were not paid.

$8 million property tax for schools

After no comments were voiced by citizens at a public hearing Tuesday night, the Granite City Board of Education set its annual real estate tax levy for 1981 at $8,238,489, up 12.105 percent over the 1980 levy of $7,348,903.

School officials estimated that this will result in a 1981 combined school tax rate of $3.4331, up 1.842 percent over the actual 1980 rate of $3.371. Director of Finance Norman S. Owca said the projection is based on an estimated 1981 assessed valuation of $240 million in

GRANITE CITY (ILL.) PRESS-RECORD, Thursday, December 17, 1981 — 7

Community Unit School District Nine, compared to the 1980 tax year's assessment total of $218,003,655.

The new assessed valuation, not yet officially set, is believed likely to rise 10.00 percent, he said.

The rate will be determined by applying the $8,238,489 levy to the 1981 assessment, while taking into account the maximum rates that can be authorized for various purposes.

The levy consists of $6,120,000 for education, $900,000 for building purposes, $470,400 for municipal retirement (employee pensions), $288,000 for transportation of pupils, $220,080 for liability insurance on school property (tort immunity), $120,000 for working cash and $120,000 for Life Safety Code, fire prevention, safety, environmental and energy conservation purposes.

No specific tax is planned for rental of facilities through the Illinois Capital Development Board, capital improvements, special education building purposes, summer school, area vocational education building purposes, construction bonds or bond interest.

The levy is to be filed with the Madison County clerk before Dec. 29.

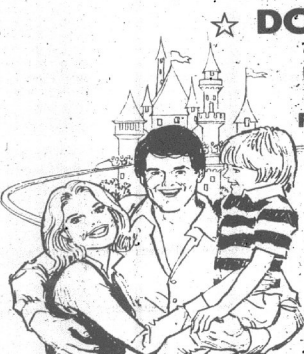

Owca commented that the taxes "recommended this year, as well as those recommended last year, take into consideration the loss of assessed valuation from personal property, and reduction of the replacement revenue that will be provided by the personal property replacement tax."

"If the assessed valuation is more than we project, the estimated tax rates will drop proportionately."

"However, if the actual valuation is less than projected, the extension of our levies on education, building, transportation, life safety and working cash funds will be reduced to the amount that can be produced by the maximum rates applied to the actual assessment."

While public hearings always have been held on school budgets, the hearing procedure on tax levies enacted in new, stemming from Public Act 82-102, the Truth in Taxation law. It requires hearings when a tax fund's levy is being increased by five percent or more.

Senior companions program established

Belleville Area College programs for Older Persons is developing a new "Senior Companions Program" to serve the Quad-City area.

The Senior Companions Program recruits and places low-income persons, 60 years of age or older, into homes of isolated or homebound elderly or in residential facilities to assist them in writing letters, preparing light meals, home management, physical therapy plans, developing social contacts and encouraging an interest in good hygiene. The Senior Companion is considered a volunteer and receives a stipend of $2 per hour for 20 hours of service per week. They also can be reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses for transportation and meals, when needed, Marge Hall, field coordinator for the program, explained.

The $2 per hour stipend is not considered income and does not reflect on the senior companion's social security, public assistance, food stamps allotment, Medicaid, disability, or any other income source, she said.

The program is extremely important for the isolated and homebound elderly clients it serves, since it provides them with support services which they would not normally receive. It is equally important to the senior companions, since it provides them with additional financial support and an opportunity to help those who are less fortunate, due to physical limitations, thus giving a new sense of importance to their life, she added.

Persons interested in additional information or income requirements may contact the BAC Program for Older Persons' office at 22nd and Iowa streets or call 876-3223.

One fact sheet that will be of interest to many people is the fact sheet on solar energy. The fact sheet on solar energy is of concern to every person in Madison County. We have available at the Extension office, a series of fact sheets on Solar Energy. These sheets include: Simple Solar, Passive Solar, Solar Greenhouses, Earth Sheltered Housing, Solar Building Materials, Solar Radiation Data, Solar Hot Water Heaters, Active Solar Space Heating, Electricity from Solar Energy, Solar Barriers and Incentives and Consumer Protection.

Farm record books offered

By RONALD CORNWELL
Extension Adviser

The Madison County farmer operates a very complex business operation. Like other business ventures, adequate records of the operation are essential to success. Farming is a competitive business. To remain efficient, the farmer must know which practices are economically sound on his farm.

The Madison County Extension office has available a new supply of farm record books. The Illinois Farm Record Book is available at a cost of $1.50.

SOLAR INFORMATION Energy is of concern to every person in Madison County. You are faced with increasing energy cost each year. Because of this, you need to keep up with the latest information in the area of energy savings.

and disadvantages of the various types building materials. The sheet also lists the R-value of various types insulating materials.

You can obtain copies of any of the above fact sheets by contacting the Madison County Extension office, 900 Hillboro, Edwardsville.

WINTERIZE PESTICIDES

Now is the time for Madison County farmers to prepare the pesticides on the farm for winter storage. The first thing I would suggest doing is checking all liquid containers for rust, corrosion and leaks. If the container is rusted or damaged, transfer the pesticide into a good container. Be sure the label is transferred to the new container. If you do not have a good container available, dispose of the pesticide according to label directions.

The second step is to check all dry formulations for broken bags and water-damaged bags. Properly dispose of damaged pesticides and packaging. Store bags off the ground and floor, away from water sources.

The third step is to read all labels for storage instructions and freezing warnings. Some pesticides cannot tolerate freezing and still maintain their quality. Special arrangements may need to be made for pesticides that should not be allowed to freeze.

GERMINATION TEST ON CROP SEEDS

I receive several questions each year where to obtain a germination test on soybean seed and other crop seeds. Farmers interested in a germination test on soybean seed should have the testing done early in the year.

There are two types of germination tests that can be run on crop seeds. They are the cold test and the warm germination test.

Research shows that when soybeans are planted under stress field conditions such as cold soil, the result of the cold germination test is a more reliable prediction of the final soybean stand and the final yield than the warm test. The warm germination test has a very low correlation to final soybean stand and yield.

The Illinois Crop Improvement Association at Champaign has the facilities to run the cold test. There is a charge for running the test.

A warm germination test can be obtained through the Department of Agriculture in Springfield. The Department of Agriculture does not run a cold test.

When sending a sample to Springfield for a warm germination test, be sure to include your name, address, kind of seed, variety, year grown, month of harvest, where grown and kind of test desired.

General Steel to be acquired by Lukens

J. A. Van Sant, chairman and president of General Steel Industries, on Monday announced that General Steel has entered into agreements with Walco National Corporation and Lukens Steel Company which, upon satisfaction of certain conditions, will result in settling of all outstanding differences between General Steel and Walco and the acquisition of General Steel by Lukens.

General Steel had its "roots" at the former Commonwealth plant in Granite City.

The agreements contemplate the following steps:

1. Subject to the approval of the appropriate courts, General Steel and Walco will promptly settle all outstanding litigation between themselves and related parties.

2. General Steel has issued Lukens a six-month non-assignable option to acquire 750,000 shares of General Steel common stock at $16 per share. Four directors named by Lukens will replace four existing General Steel directors on General Steel's 12-member board.

3. Walco will extend the termination, withdrawal, and (subject to court order) proration dates of its tender offer for 750,000 shares of General Steel common stock until 10 days after the mailing of amended materials.

4. General Steel will purchase from Walco the 750,000 shares which are the subject of the tender offer for $16 per share, or an aggregate of $14,250,000.

5. Walco will sell its 1,330,047 shares of General Steel Industries common stock for an aggregate price of $22,468,752 or an average price of $16.89 per share. Lukens will purchase 934,047 of such shares for $14,944,752 (a price of $16 per share).

6. In early 1982, Lukens will propose to General Steel a cash merger in which Lukens will acquire all remaining outstanding shares of General Steel common stock at $16 per share. As an alternative, Lukens may make a cash tender offer for any and all per share.

In connection with the litigation settlement, General Steel will dismiss the action it brought against Walco and Frederick W. Richmond in the federal courts in St. Louis.

Walco will dismiss the action it brought against certain state officers, attacking the constitutionality of Delaware, and Missouri state takeover statutes, the action it brought against General Steel for shareholders' lists and related relief, and will seek court approval to dismiss claims brought against General Steel's directors and its investment bankers.

The board of General Steel (with one member absent), has unanimously approved the agreement with Walco and Lukens, and recommends that General Steel shareholders tender their shares in the Walco tender offer.

In reaching this determination the board took into account oral advice of Kidder, Peabody and Co., Incorporated, that the consideration to be received by General Steel shareholders in the transactions is fair to them from a financial point of view.

"The combination of GSI and Lukens is a favorable and natural one, and is welcomed by our board on behalf of our shareholders and employees," Van Sant said.

In commenting on the settlement with Walco, Van Sant said, "I am delighted that the difficult situation has been resolved."

APARTMENT BURGLARY

A burglar who forced open a window obtained a $375 window air-conditioning unit at the apartment of Kenneth Stucke, 701 Kirkpatrick Homes, last week. Also taken were a 12-inch television set worth $125, a $30 pellet pistol and a holder containing silverware.

ENVOYS SENT

On Dec. 30, 1776, Congress resolved to send commissioners to Vienna, Spain, Prussia and Tuscany.

which GSI has faced since the Walco National tender offer began is over. I believe that Walco and Fredrick Richmond have acted honorably in their dealings with GSI's management."

Madison gifted program monitored and praised

The Madison school district's gifted student program was monitored and received commendation by the Region VI Gifted Area Service Center of the Illinois State Board of Education's Department of Recognition and Supervision during the school district's evaluation by the state.

Twenty percent of the gifted programs operating in Region VI are evaluated in conjunction with regularly scheduled recognition and supervision visits conducted by experts from the ISBE and the regional school superintendent, H. E. "Gene" Briggs.

Programs are evaluated, teachers and students are interviewed, and records are checked to determine how well the district meets the comprehensive standards for reimbursement of the Illinois gifted program.

Strengths cited by Thomas Burk, evaluator from the Gifted Area Service Center for educators of Gifted and Talented Youth, were:

—The fourth and fifth grade building personnel in Madison were well qualified and cooperate effectively in presenting an exemplary program on their grade level.

—The high school gifted program is not merely an honors program.

—A chemistry course, for gifted students only, is offered as an integral part of the curriculum.

—And the new Madison director is very active in continuing the program that has been developed.

A weakness cited in the program was the lack of a full working program at grades 13 and 14 because of staff changes.

The program director has recruited staff to establish a comprehensive gifted program from grades 1-12, with a second semester 1981-82 target date for implementation, a Madison school spokesman said.

Set-aside opposed by Ill. farmers

The Illinois Farm Bureau (IFB) reaffirmed support for a market-based farm policy and the administration's economic recovery program during the IFB annual meeting held in St. Louis last week.

Voting delegates representing county Farm Bureaus throughout Illinois considered five policy resolutions which referred to government programs. In each case, a strong market orientation prevailed.

Language calling for an emergency set-aside program in tentative resolutions considered by delegates was deleted in delegate action.

Those who spoke against the call for a set-aside said such a program was counter to long-standing Farm Bureau policy.

In other farm policy matters, the delegates voted to:

- Establish soil conservation as a high priority of the IFB and accept a requirement that would tie a farmer's eligibility for farm program benefits to a soil conservation plan.

—Supported changes in state and federal laws and regulations which would protect the rights and financial security of farmers holding warehouse receipts for grain.

—Adopted a policy designed to aid in protecting farmland. Delegates also voted to support legislation which would discourage strip annexation of land and remove the veto power municipalities have concerning agricultural areas within 1½ miles of their jurisdiction.

—Opposed preferential tax treatment of foreign investments in farmland.

The distinguished service award, the Farm Bureau's highest honor, went to Keith King of Oneida and Melvin Sims of Quincy.

King is a leader in the dairy industry and has attained international recognition in dairy breeding circles.

Sims, chairman and chief executive of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, served more than two decades as president and chairman of Growmark and its predecessor companies.

Edwards to spend year in Wiesbaden

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

David P. Edwards, 19, of 2400 O'Hare Ave., will be leaving Granite City for Wiesbaden, Germany, on Jan. 1, where he will stay for the next year. Edwards will be doing photography, graphic arts and printing in the Eurasia Teen Challenge-Macedonian Mission Program.

Edwards graduated from Granite City High School South this year and had planned to become a professional athlete, but a series of events in his life changed his mind and he decided to become a Christian missionary.

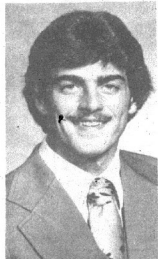

athletics to the field of missions.

The Macedonia Mission program of Teen Challenge is in Europe, the Middle East and Southern Asia and offers an opportunity for young people to work directly in the mission field for one year or more, before continuing formal education.

Young people from all over the world meet in Wiesbaden, West Germany, for 10 weeks of extensive training. After the training, teams are sent out to specific locations, where they will be assisting the pioneer outreach programs of Teen Challenge.

The young people will be working with local leadership. Their goal is to open new coffeehouses or youth centers and, in some cases, new churches will be started in conjunction with the national church of the country the young people are in.

The Mobilization and Placement Service (MAPS)

DAVID P. EDWARDS

office of the Assemblies of God in Springfield, Mo., is currently recruiting students and other personnel to serve as volunteers, both stateside and overseas for the summer of 1982.

Teen Challenge was started several years ago by Assemblies of God Minister David Wilkerson in New York.

Wilkerson is the author of the best-selling novel, the Cross and the Switchblade. He began Teen Challenge originally as a drug rehabilitation program and it subsequently grew internationally in scope.

Wilkerson still is very active in the program, which is now administered through the headquarters of the Assemblies of God Churches, Springfield, Mo.

Young Edwards, in addition to working with the preparation of religious tracts and other printed material, will share in the coffeehouse ministries and also help with the renovation of a dormitory building in Wiesbaden, used by the Teen Challenge MAPS program.

centers and help build up local churches.

The Lutheran church has donated the use of a 35-room villa in Wiesbaden for Teen Challenge to use in the training of leaders and workers in various youth ministries.

Each individual, like David, is required to take care of his or her own expenses for the year, which are estimated at about $450 per month, counting travel.

Interested churches, friends and relatives of the young missionaries contribute toward the expenses. Funds are handled through the MAPS headquarters. Many of the volunteers use their personal savings, as an act of faith.

David is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Dale (Dorothy) Edwards. Rev. Edwards is pastor of First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue.

Information on the Teen Challenge MAPS program may be obtained by writing Lamag Headley, coordinator, MAPS, 1445 Booneville Ave., Springfield, Mo. 65802, or at the local church.

County lacks topless and organized crime—Toffant

Sex and organized crime are not synonymous, but they are close to it, Sheriff Emil J. Toffant indicated during the weekend. He took a strong stand against "strip joints, topless waitresses and T shirt nights."

His comments were made during an interview with a candidate screening committee of the Madison County Democratic party. He is seeking nomination and election to a second four-year term.

Interviewed at the Edwardsville Holiday Inn, where the screening meetings took place, Toffant said he had prevented a "T shirt night" downtown here two weeks ago.

The sheriff described the work of his department and, in answer to a question, said there is "absolutely no organized crime in this county at the present time."

"Madison County is the cleanest it's ever been," he said. He equated St. Clair County crime problems with the existence of establishments featuring "laid waitresses."

Speaking with obvious pride about accomplishments of the past four years, Toffant noted that for the first time ever the Federal Bureau of Investigation Academy has trained a member of the sheriff department and now has accepted two others for training.

"The FBI Academy is the 'West Point' of law enforcement, and it is hard to get into. I and 'Cotton' Roberts (a member of the screening group) attended it years ago," Toffant said.

Calling the Madison County sheriff department "the best in Southern Illinois," he said there has been excellent cooperation by other police departments and by employees.

He remarked that past automobile procedures had resulted in deputies spending up to one-fourth of their work time driving to Edwardsville to pick up patrol cars or to obtain gasoline there, and then driving back to the areas where they were assigned. He said the autos were out in a year or two because they were driven 24 hours a day.

Instead, each current deputy operates a patrol car, which is available to him 24 hours, and the officer is "on duty the minute he leaves his home," the screening panel was told. Gasoline purchases are being rotated among various stations, it was noted.

To aid in financing patrol services provided for the 90,000 population in unincorporated areas of the county, small autos are being bought without some of "the big police package" of equipment, the sheriff related.

The former Illinois State

Police district commander said he has been in police work for 35 years. During his state service, he was a watchdog against organized crime in the Madison and St. Clair counties area, speculators recalled.

Toffant said all categories of crime are showing a reduction except for burglaries, which remain a major problem. Homicides are down sharply, he added. He endorsed the concept of a 911 emergency telephone number if financing can be arranged.

The sheriff praised the work of auxiliary police in Rosewood Heights and a five-member auxiliary unit in Nameoki Township.

While there have been only eight deputies hired since he took office, a new eligibility list of 50 is being developed by the three-member merit board from about 300 applicants, the committee was told.

Agility tests eliminated about a third, and written tests eliminated another 100, it was noted; 98 are to be interviewed.

School holidays are approaching

Students in the Quad-City public and parochial schools will begin Christmas vacations starting next Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 22 and 23, and all will return to their respective schools for the regular schedule on Monday, Jan. 4. St. Elizabeth Catholic School,

Johnson and Pontoon roads, will dismiss classes on Tuesday, which will be a half-day session. The remainder of the parochial schools including St. Margaret-Mary, Sacred Heart-St. Joseph, in Granite City, and St. Mary-St. Mark, for Madison and Venice students, will hold half day classes on Wednesday, then dismiss for the holiday season. All pupils attending public schools in Granite City, Madison and Venice, will attend the final day on Wednesday, Dec. 23, and return on Monday, Jan. 4.

Lease sewer system office

The Madison County Board yesterday approved leasing a building from Henry Ross for the Special Service Area I sanitary sewer system.

Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zack" Smith said $1,024 will be paid monthly for the former Triangle Heating Co. building at 301 E. Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell.

Smith said it is planned to purchase the structure as soon as final grant funds have been received from the state government for the county-operated sewer system that serves Chouteau and Nameoki townships and part of Venice Township.

Since some of the land can later be sold, and money can be derived from sale of the mobile home that has been used as an office on Illinois Route 111, the lease and eventual purchase can provide needed operating funds and debt retirement, the attorney told the board.

In presenting a status report on the sewer program, Smith said a goal of 3,700 sewer system customers by Jan. 1, 1982, probably can be met, taking into account the present 3,300 total and the plans to add Pontoon Beach area properties.

This will enable the program to become self-supporting in meeting maintenance and operating costs, he said.

Numerous items of business requiring board action were presented during the meeting by Morris Miles, chairman of the County Board's special sewer committee.

The board adopted an amendment to its sewer ordinance to provide that every property owner within the sewer district and within 200 feet of a sewer line must pay $15.80 monthly, regardless of whether or not the property has been connected to the sewer system. In another action, the board ratified the sewer committee's decision to abandon a lawsuit to force moving of Brandon Heights subdivision sewers.

The sewers there are not on easements because volunteers initially lacked $12,000 to formally record the easements they had obtained, Smith related. Farm land subsequently was converted to a residential area, resulting in buildings being constructed over sewers in some cases, he added.

Since the suit and related costs might have required an expenditure of between $60,000 and $100,000, it was decided to instead pay legal fees estimated at $10,000 to $15,000 and then deal with specific easement requests and sewer moves, perhaps at a cost of another $30,000 or less, board members were told.

Resolution of the Brandon

Heights issue is necessary to secure final state-held funds, Smith said. Louis Whitsell, former sewer committee chairman, objected to the settlement and said easements in certain other areas also went unrecorded.

The County Board approved extension of sewers to the Town and Country East 5th, 6th and 7th Additions, utilizing M. B. Corlew & Associates as engineers, and accepted 14 homes there on the Stanley Lucas sewer lines.

And the board contracted with the Village of Pontoon Beach for extension of sewers to the Quiet Valley residential area. Final acceptance of the Quiet Valley lines will follow a 60-day period in which they will be inspected to assure there is no seepage or surface water infiltration.

Luxury, phone tax?

the man from the audience shouted. Apparently, most of the aldermen agreed, rapidly turning from the head tax to a one percent luxury tax on liquor and restaurants for an "equal" revenue substitution.

Alderman Whitmer of the Second Ward, the first alderman to address the council, immediately asked the council to reconsider a luxury tax and criticized an employer tax that would not exempt the school district or the local medical center.

A luxury tax is far more practical," Whitmer said, calling the tax on liquor and restaurants a form of taxation residents would accept more readily than the head tax.

Fourth Ward said it was "not true" that the employer tax was a way for out-of-town employers to pay their fair share for city maintenance.

The mayor said the state legislature has refused to give a local municipality the right to impose a city's earnings tax. He said the head tax is an alternative to that problem. "In effect, the employer pays for all employees he hires who aren't residents," Schulz said.

He was first introduced at Tuesday's council meeting to a heated debate between the mayor and Alderman Fred Pat Schuman of the Second Ward. The Employers' Expense Tax would impose a $3-per-month tax per full-time employee on any employer with 15 or more employees. A full-time employee would be one who earns more than $900 in a three-month period.

Tuesday night's meeting was adjourned and continued Wednesday night after the council met until its 11 p.m. curfew. Schulz had ended the first meeting with a warning to the council if they did not pass the head tax, the West Granite City Fire Station would be "cut for sure." Alderman Jake Varadian of the Fifth Ward assured the council audience Wednesday that the station will remain.

Alderman Steve Salich of the Sixth Ward, former president of the Granite City Community Unit District 9 Board of Education, received the mayor's confirmation that the school district would be obligated to pay the head tax.

Schulz said Tuesday that he was trying to tell the council it had reached the point where a "big facility" would have to be closed if other revenues were not approved. "I'm trying to tell you, you are there...you have nowhere else to go," Schulz said. "You're there, damn it. It's not a time to argue."

Schulz said the council could no longer be concerned about making someone angry by their action. The mayor had anticipated the tax being put into effect Jan. 1, the same date as the city's new 3 1/2-percent sales tax, expected to raise about $900,000, is scheduled to go into effect.

Schulz said the head tax would have raised about $240,000 in revenue each year, but said revenue from a luxury was difficult to estimate when some aldermen wanted to know just how much money could be raised by a luxury tax substitution.

Salich said he could not vote on a tax before he had a chance to see figures. He said without estimates he did not "know what kind of windfall" a luxury tax could generate.

"If we find out there's too much money, we can always lower property tax," Whitmer told aldermen and spectators, who loudly expressed their doubts property taxes would ever be raised.

"We could do it if they (aldermen) have enough backbone," Whitmer said. The alderman said a luxury tax might raise between $25,000 and $40,000 per month.

Schulz said he had asked the mayor of Decatur, which has a luxury tax, for ways to estimate the revenue possible from a luxury; and was told by Decatur's mayor not to expect the cooperation of the state in disclosing the receipts of businesses that would be subject to a luxury tax. Schulz said both Decatur and Peoria have luxury taxes. After a voice vote on Whitmer's motion to reconsider the luxury tax, Mayor Schulz instructed City Attorney John Papa to bring in a one percent luxury tax ordinance at the council's next meeting.

A one percent luxury tax added to the 3 1/2-percent sales tax would mean a 7 percent total tax on liquor and restaurants (including state sales taxes). The council had overwhelmingly approved on first reading a luxury tax during the summer, but changed their decision on the final vote. Before Alderman Fisk began reading an ordinance for Schulz's proposed 5 percent telephone tax, Alderman

Michael Modrusic of the Seventh Ward said that if the telephone tax is a utility tax, it would go against the council's previously approved motion against supporting any utility taxes.

Papa told Modrusic that since no particular ordinance had been voted on by the council at that time, the aldermen were free to act on the telephone ordinance under consideration.

"Isn't this a utility tax ordinance," Modrusic asked the city attorney. Papa repeated that in his opinion the particular ordinance under consideration had not been the subject of previous action by the council and could not be prevented by a motion made last summer.

Alderman Bowler of the Seventh Ward said a telephone tax had been discussed at that time, but Papa said the tax had not been presented in ordinance form to the council.

Whitmer separated the issue of the telephone tax and utility tax. He said the aldermen are aware the "main meat" of last summer's motion was intended to prevent large industrial consumers of electricity and gas from being hit with those utility taxes.

Alderman Modrusic approved 9 to 4 the first reading of the 5 percent telephone tax, which would apply to all uses. The ordinance said the tax would become effective immediately after passage, but Alderman Casmer Skubish of the First Ward said a telephone company official told him it would take 60 to 90 days before the company would be ready to collect the tax.

Skubish said preparations would have to be made for billing deductions required by law before a bill could be taxed. Skubish the phone company told him the average residential bill is $30.60 per month and, with required deductions, that amount would be about $28 for a monthly tax utility tax charge of 5 percent.

Skubish said the average commercial billing is $175 a month—about $100 after deductions—or about $5 per month for the proposed telephone tax.

Responding to a question by Alderman Schuman, the mayor said the telephone tax does not break an agreement made with Granite City Steel, exempting them from a utility tax until their contribution to the construction of the overpass had been accumulated.

Adlai assembled Democratic slate

By AL MANNING

SPRINGFIELD — Adlai Stevenson was the key player in putting together the remainder of the Democratic ticket for state offices.

Not only did he personally choose Grace Mary Stern for lieutenant governor, but he also recruited Neil Hartigan and Jim Donnewald for the campaign.

Stevenson minimizes his own role in the slatemaking process in order to avoid antagonizing the disappointed contenders who were unsuccessful in getting on the ticket. The candidate knows he must have their full support if he is to defeat Republican Gov. James R. Thompson in the general election.

But the political reality is that he all but dictated what the candidates would be in the races that were seriously contested.

No one in the Democratic Party disputes Stevenson's right to choose his own running mate. After all, they're going to make Dave O'Neal's resignation as lieutenant governor the butt of jokes for the next year, so they might as well let the gubernatorial candidate have his choice. And there are good governmental reasons for so doing, too.

But to allow the gubernatorial candidate to select the contenders for attorney general and treasurer is a bit unusual.

Hartigan's name had been banttered about as a potential candidate for state office for months because of his obvious political attributes — former lieutenant governor and vice president of a Chicago bank.

But it appeared early on that Stevenson would be the candidate for governor and that state Treasurer Jerry Cosentino had a lock on the secretary of state's endorsement.

Meanwhile, a bitter fight was developing for attorney general. Chicago Alderman Martin Oberman, an outspoken critic of Mayor Jane Byrne, was picking up steam and the regular organization didn't have a candidate yet.

Before Alderman Fisk began reading an ordinance for Schulz's proposed 5 percent telephone tax, Alderman neither Oberman nor Dan Pierce would be endorsed, placed a telephone call to Hartigan to ask if he would be interested. On Nov. 10, Hartigan replied in the affirmative. On Nov. 13 he was granted a leave of absence from the bank. And on Nov. 16 he appeared before the slatemakers.

Meanwhile, Stevenson was concerned about the geographical balance of the ticket. It was obvious that a downstate should be chosen for treasurer, especially so with suburbanite Stern being selected for lieutenant governor.

State Rep. Gerald Bradley of Bloomington had worked for months lining up support for the office. Sangamon County Chairman Todd Renfrow of Springfield was talking about secretary of state, but he realized his best bet was going to be for treasurer. Not until Nov. 9 did it become general knowledge that Donnewald, a state senator from Breese, also was interested in treasurer.

But Donnewald took off on a hunting trip, and the party leaders weren't sure if he was going to present his credentials to the committee.

Stevenson, working with Senate President Phil Rock, telephoned Donnewald to encourage him to enter the race. Donnewald told them he would seek the endorsement on Nov. 13.

quite a bit of time in court in the next year because he also is filing lawsuits against his former wife and against Brimberry in connection with the allegations they are making against him that he accepted unreported campaign contributions from Brimberry, possibly as much as $75,000. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch contends that Brimberry has told federal authorities investigating the Stix collapse that he gave large sums of money to Partney in the kitchen of Brimberry's unfinished house on Westmoreland Drive, in the back room of the Partney for Mayor (of Granite City) campaign headquarters and in a car together.

Mrs. Partney told the Press-Record that she personally saw Brimberry give her ex-husband a stack of bills she estimated to contain about $20,000 in the back room of the campaign headquarters before this April's election for mayor.

Brimberry is quoted as saying he went with Partney to the office of his attorney, Leon Scroggins, and watched Partney put the money in a safe there.

Partney denies receiving more than $500 from Brimberry. He said a $500 check was received from Brimberry Feb. 5 to purchase tickets for a fund-raiser and that donation was properly recorded in his campaign disclosure report.

He said he has been saving cash in a safe in Scroggins' office since January, 1980, "long before I ever heard of Brimberry," because he felt he may need cash for his business, the campaign and personal reasons and his checking and savings accounts were about to be tied up by the impending divorce.

He said that cash, which is accounted for in his personal financial records, was used to purchase stocks and finance a trip to Las Vegas, in addition to helping operate his business and absorb a $16,300 loss from the campaign, which cost $46,665 to operate, but only about $30,000 total was raised, Partney said. The remainder, "I put in myself, out of my own pocket," he explained.

He estimated that there was still $5,400 in the safe during a press conference Sunday, but said he intended to remove it immediately, rather than subject Scroggins' office to a possible burglary, now that the location of the money has been disclosed.

Scroggins said he never asked how much money Partney was putting in the safe and does not recall Partney ever telling him.

"All my money can be justified from my company, Granite Sheet Metal. If anyone wants to audit my books, it's all here," he said holding up a bundle of cancelled checks and receipts.

Partney alleges that there has been a "romantic involvement" between his ex-wife and Brimberry and that they may have jointly created the campaign contributions story to discredit him. "We know Brimberry is a thief and a liar," Partney alleged in an interview with the Press-Record early this week. "Over a month ago, my wife told me that allegations would be made against me," he contended.

"This morning (Sunday), my wife called and told me she would ruin me, if it was the last thing she ever did," Partney alleged.

Mrs. Partney tells a different account of the conversation. "Dan called me today (Sunday). I wish he'd leave me alone. He said he would make it so I couldn't come back to Granite City," she said.

"I have done nothing wrong and I am not ashamed to come to Granite City," she stated.

Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber has told reporters that he plans to launch an immediate investigation into the Brimberry allegations about Partney.

Cities fear loss of revenue

A letter from the Illinois Department of Revenue, brought to the attention of Venice City Council at its meeting Tuesday, may mean "disaster" to many Illinois communities which could collectively lose millions of dollars in replacement tax revenues, according to Venice City Treasurer J. Alan Gardner Sr.

Madison City Comptroller Al Hudzik told the Press-Record that Madison received $127,000 in 1980. To date for 1981, Madison has received $111,000 and has one more payment coming, which should be between $10,000 and $15,000. The allocation for Madison in 1982, according to Hudzik, will be about $121,000, which is in line with the average since the replacement tax started in 1980.

Venice in 1980 received $290,000 and, as of today has $253,716 in 1981, with one payment still to come this month. As in Madison, the amount of the final payment is not known.

The letter from the state estimated the annual figure for Venice for 1982 at $275,095.

"I don't want to cause any aldermen or any other officials to lose any sleep, but we received a letter today from Springfield. The letter referred to the possible reduction in the replacement tax of 40 percent in the 1982 estimate.

"The letter is from J. Thomas Johnson, director of the Illinois Department of Revenue. This would mean that the city would lose over $100,000.

"We have three basic sources of revenue for the city — property taxes, revenue sharing funds and this replacement tax, which took the place of the old personal property tax. We are barely getting by now. If we lose another $100,000 or more next year, I just do not know what the city will do," Gardner said.

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols commented, "Governor Thompson is determined to balance the state budget at the expense of the cities. The money loss will be the equivalent of almost three months of payroll. Our city payroll now is about $45,000 per month. There is hope that a new governor will reverse this, if Stevenson (Adali III) is elected, but that is a big 'if' and still a long time away. All I can say is we have to continue to put pressure on our state representatives to stop this type of thing," he contended.

"Between the state and federal government, they are cutting back on disability payments, food stamps, taking people off welfare, and revenue sharing funds are becoming shaky. Financing cities today is a hell of a mess," Mayor Echols said.

According to David Nolan, administrative assistant to Mayor Paul Schuler, Granite City received a similar letter this month, but the estimated 1982 allocation figures were slightly above last year's figures.

Nolan said he is not aware of any cuts or adverse effects on the city's personal property tax income in the near future.

Committeeman Bruce Cook of Belleville in the 21st Congressional District.

No endorsement was given on the office of Madison County clerk, apparently because Clerk Evelyn Bowles of Edwardsville did not appear before the screening unit of the Democratic organization.

However, she has no opposition at this point, is regarded as certain to be a landslide winner anyway, and has the individual blessing of many of the party leaders.

The party avoided endorsing but did say it recommends her. "She's going to win, anyway, you know," Costoff commented.

Some Republicans may be nominated on the basis of write-in votes in March. The Democrats' endorsement decisions were made a few hours after the closing of the eight-day filing period at 5 p.m. Monday. The screening panel had met Sunday to complete its recommendations for submission to the full executive committee.

Among those filing last week was Ralph D. Brawley. The retired Venice police chief is opposing Toffant for the Democratic sheriff nomination.

No Republicans filed for sheriff, county clerk or regional school superintendent before Monday's closing of the filing period.

For the 29 positions on the Madison County Board, filings totaled 68, including 47 Democrats and 21 Republicans.

In the Democratic primary for board positions, two districts attracted no filings, 13 have unopposed candidates, there are nine two-way races, four districts have three-way competition and there is a four-way contest.

On the Republican primary ballot for the County Board, no one filed in 13 precincts, there are 11 unopposed candidates, and there are five instances of two-way competition.

Among Quad-Cityans, Herbert "Junior" Milton and Frank Dulko are unopposed for re-election to the County Board, while Louis Whitsell and Daniel Partney are leaving the board.

manager for Central Hardware, which opposes any changes in the current sales tax. Cohen stated that Central Hardware has a definite interest in the community and is concerned about any actions which could affect the cost of operating the store.

The local manager of the Central Hardware store said he was in attendance at Tuesday's council meeting as a representative of the store, but was not aware of any legal representative present in behalf Central.

The new sales tax, if found legal, will increase the tax on non-food items to 6 percent and 4 percent on food and drug items.

A previous letter from G. H. Herstein, senior vice-president of Central Hardware said the unsuccessful one percent sales tax would have made Granite City's rate one of the highest in the area.

Also discussed was attending the Goldenrod Dinner Theatre as a Christmas event.

Others attending were Joyce Waller, Jeannette Wilson, Kathleen Wofford, Helen Warfield and Betty Brooks. Mrs. Tinsley invited the club to meet in her home, 1619 Spruce St., for its next gathering.

Fashion Show attracts 174

The fourth annual Tea and Fashion Show, sponsored by the Farrar and Terrell Senior Citizens Club, attracted 174 people at the event held in the West Madison Memorial Center.

Mrs. Jeffrey Paige, president, introduced a guest, Mrs. Betty Cunningham who spoke at the afternoon social affair.

Entertainment was furnished by Charles Wright who performed an instrumental solo, Danny Boy and Trees, followed by Willard Owen who played a piano solo entitled, I Believe. Also the Southern Baptist Men's Choir sang a selection of songs.

Mistress of ceremonies was Mrs. Katherine Moore and Mrs. Christeen Haynes and Mrs. Jessie Johnson served as chairmen.

Personal grooming is meeting topic

Mrs. Sheila Morgan, a representative of the Granite City School of Beauty Culture, presented a program and lecture on personal care and grooming, at the December meeting of the Madison Chapter of the Future Secretaries Association.

The guest speaker distributed booklets on the latest hair styles and added the first and most impressive signal noted by a stranger is one's smile and next is a person's appearance.

She stressed the importance of selecting a proper color combination as well as make-up to match the clothing selection and added the importance of proper cleansing and use of a base before applying cosmetics.

Mrs. Morgan explained that the natural traits and facial structure of each individual must be considered when selecting the shade of make-up used. She demonstrated the point by using two of her students, Clarissa Cross and Angela Williams, whose facial structures and coloring were different and displayed the cosmetics most complementary to each model.

Chapter President Tracy Champion conducted the business session with reports submitted by Teresa Robertson, recording secretary, and Robin Crowder, corresponding secretary.

Vice-President Maryann Bisto introduced the featured speaker for the session. The next meeting is set for Jan. 12, the president noted.

Gardenaires yule party

The Gardenaires Garden Club held its annual Christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. Richard Kerch, last week. As the members gathered Mrs. Leo Schank presented each with a small crocheted wreath trimmed with Christmas bells.

The theme for the meeting was "Herb Make an Edible Buffet." Members brought a covered dish that contained some of the herbs and spices the club had been studying throughout the year. The dessert table featured "Rose Hip Custard" accompanied by mince cookies, prepared by Mrs. Andrew Gonzalez. After lunch a discussion was held regarding the preparation and ingredients of the various foods.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Schank. A final accounting of the sales from the park craft show was made by ways and means chairman, Mrs. Robert Hintz. She said all items had been sold, and the orders for the suncatchers were completed.

Conservation chairman, Mr. Alex Tarpoft spoke on legislation aimed at preserving the tall grass prairies that remain in the midwest.

Mrs. Charles Kohl, who

The president also extended appreciation to Mrs. Abe Shannon for providing the holiday plant for the mini-garden center.

The business meeting concluded with a general discussion of plans to formally present the garden club logo, which has been installed on the Rotary Club's billboard. A committee to handle this project will be announced at the February meeting. It was noted. To conclude the days festivities the hostess presented each member with an angel pear Christmas angel.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held on Thursday, Feb. 11 at the home of Mrs. Hintz. The month of January is vacation time, the president said. Also attending were Mrs. C. E. Eads, Roy Harmann, William Long and Mrs. Mary Kristian.

Anti-litter ordinance defeated

An "anti-litter" ordinance prohibiting the throwing of unsolicited advertising materials into yards in Granite City was defeated on a 10-4 vote by aldermen at Tuesday night's city council meeting.

The vote was taken after attorney Burton Bernard, representing the free Granite City Journal, said the Journal would try to improve its circulation methods — the source of litter complaints to aldermen.

Primarily affected by the ordinance would have been two free-distribution publications here, the Journal, published by the Donnelly Suburban Newspaper Group and the Weekender, published by the Granite City Press-Record.

Press-Record General Manager Paul Halbert halted publication of the Weekender after the anti-litter ordinance was introduced and says there currently are no plans to resume its publication in light of requests by the city administration to reduce litter in the community.

Publication of the Press-Record, which is delivered to doors of paid subscribers by newsboys, would not have been affected by the anti-litter ordinance.

The ordinance, passed by the council 13-0 on first reading three weeks ago, would have required distributors of unsolicited advertising — other than mail — to receive the written permission of property owners before throwing materials into their yards.

Bernard said the Journal will begin inserting forms every month for six months in the Journal asking residents if they want stop or resume receiving the publication.

"You put the burden on those who don't want the paper," Alderman Paul Bowler of the Seventh Ward objected. "Shouldn't it be the other way?"

Bowler, who voted for the prohibiting ordinance, said "the burden should be with you people."

The attorney said the "Journal will use its best effort" to throw the free papers "closer to houses than sidewalks and curb area."

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward told council members that he had recently observed a block where free papers were laying on sidewalks and between the sidewalks and curbs. Whitmer suggested that delivery boxes be installed at each household that wants the delivery of the free-distribution paper. He said the boxes would indicate to deliverers which homes want the paper.

Whitmer said that method also would require deliverers to hand deliver the paper to each box. "We can talk and talk, but problems are not going to be solved until we get an ordinance," Whitmer said.

Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman, who had introduced the ordinance when some residents had objected to a litter problem caused by papers accumulating in yards and streets, made a motion Tuesday night to table the ordinance.

"I think this is a legitimate attempt to correct some of the problems," Schuman said. He said he wanted to hold onto the ordinance until the alderman had an opportunity to see what kind of response the Journal makes. Schuman told aldermen that the idea of tabling the ordinance was to keep the ordinance "over their heads."

The motion to table was defeated on a vote of 8 to 6, and Alderman Paul Fisk of the Third Ward, chairman of the ordinance committee, placed the anti-litter ordinance on final reading.

Voting in favor of the ordinance were Whitmer, Bowler, Everett Mollen and Mrs. Margaret Nonn. The other 10 voted against it.

The ordinance had been introduced to city officials by Edwin Reiske, president of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, who says it is based upon a "Champaign, Ill., ordinance which has withstood court challenges."

Reiske said an overwhelming majority of the members of the council's central committee expressed strong support for the anti-litter ordinance because of the Granite City Journal's alleged firing of employees who attempted to join the St. Louis Newspaper Guild, an AFL-CIO union.

The two men were drivers of autos that collided head-on on West Chain of Rocks Road, four-tenths of a mile west of Route 203, at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Details of the accident were not available from the Illinois State Police, who stated the accident was still under investigation.

Army honors GC man

A former Granite City stockboy was selected this week as the Army's best produce manager in the Midwest. It is the third consecutive year he has received the award.

Jack Graham, 58, stocked shelves for two Granite City grocery stores while attending Granite City High School. He is now the commissary produce manager for the army's St. Louis Area Support Center in Granite City, handling more than 20,000 pounds of fruit and vegetables daily and ringing up monthly sales in excess of $85,000.

Graham's produce operation was noted for its cleanliness, the quality of its produce and the courtesy of its staff. He has received the award (presented by the chief of the Army's Midwestern Commissary Region) every year since its inception, edging out 16 other commissary produce departments.

"I'm like my customers," Graham said. "I look at the overall appearance of the display, as well as the color, size and freshness of the produce... particularly the perishable fruit."

With more than 900 active duty and retired servicemen and their families shopping at the commissary every day, Graham has his work cut out for him. On a typical Friday during a summer, for example, he and his staff of four will shelve and sell more than 400 quarts of strawberries, as well as nearly 60 cases of other fruits.

In addition, perishable items which are not sold at the commissary are pulled from the shelves every night, while non-perishables are pulled once a week.

"I figure that we order, receive, price and shelve more than 10 tons of produce a day," Graham said, "versus maybe the ton and a half they'll handle at a typical store in the community."

Graham, who lives with his wife, Imogene, in the 2500 block of Popes Street in Granite City, has worked for the commissary for six years. Prior to that time, he served as a production control officer at the Army's support center, ordering mechanical parts of Army weapons and troop support systems used around the world.

According to his boss, Commissary Manager Charles Bailey, Graham is one of the commissary's most valued employees. "Without a good produce department," Bailey said, "We might as well close this place."

Seek nurses for Air Force

Air Force recruiters will seek about 700 registered nurses to become commissioned officers in the Air Force Nurse Corps during the next 12 months, Air Force recruiting officials have announced.

In addition to a special requirement for anesthetists, nurses are being sought to perform in clinical positions and such specialty areas as mental health, environmental health, operating room nursing, and maternal-child health.

According to Captain Kathy Kennedy, St. Louis nurse recruiter, "625 positions are open specifically to general duty nurses with bachelor of science in nursing degrees."

Applicants are given an initial base of choice option, provided a vacancy exists. However, nurses will know where they will be assigned prior to accepting their commission. Once commissioned as Air Force officers, they are assigned to medical facilities throughout the world. They range in size from small out-patient clinics to large hospitals such as the 1,000 bed Wilford Hall USAF Medical Center in San Antonio, Tex., she added.

Air Force nurses receive a good program of compensation entitlements, including competitive salaries, 30 days of vacation and dental care, medical opportunities, and, for those who choose the Air Force as a career, an excellent retirement plan, Capt. Kennedy said.

Further information is available by contacting Captain Kennedy at 1-314-434-8655, or by visiting her office at 1065 Executive Parkway, in the Mason Executive Building, Creve Coeur, Mo.

Wage rules apply to home knitters

As a regulatory change permitting homework in the knitted outerwear industry became effective, home knitters were reminded that they are protected by the federal wage and hour law.

William M. Otter, administrator of the U.S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division, said, "Homeworkers in the knitted outerwear industry are protected by the Fair Labor Standards Act, and we advise employers in that industry that we will be making a special effort to insure their compliance with the law."

The act requires that home knitters and most other workers be paid at least the minimum wage of $3.35 an hour, and overtime whenever they put in more than 40 hours in a work week.

"Employers may not deduct the cost of materials and imperfections or other expenses from their workers' paychecks, if by doing so, they cause the wage to fall below the minimum wage," Otter said. In addition, deductions may not cut into overtime pay.

Regular payroll records for homeworkers must be kept by employers. In addition, Otter said, homeworkers themselves are required to have individual handbooks, obtained by their employers from the Wage and Hour Division, in which the employers or their representatives must record detailed information about several matters: the date homeworkers receive work; a description of the work; the amount or number of units given to them; the piece rate; the number of hours worked; the date they turn in work; the amount turned in; the date they are paid; and the total wages.

When there is no space left for entries in the handbooks, homeworkers should return them to their employers, who must keep the handbooks for a specified period of time.

Otter stressed the importance of the date kept in the handbooks and strongly encouraged all home knitters to make certain that their employers provide them with copies, which are available from the local offices of the Wage and Hour Division, listed under U.S. Department of Labor in most telephone directories.

Violations of the wage-hour law also should be reported

Steelerettes come back to dump Edwardsville in opener

GRANITE CITY — Granite City North's girls basketball team got its season off to a good start here Tuesday night. The Steelerettes came from behind to nab a critical Gateway East Conference victory from Edwardsville, 43-34.

The Steelerettes trailed the Tigers 25-16 at half-time, but put changed defenses in the second half and put the clamps on the Edwardsville scoring attack. "I'm pleased with the effort, especially for the first game," said North coach Harry Cook. "I'm not really that pleased with the first half, but I am with the second half."

North used a stingy full court press the entire second half. "We keyed on their point guard," said Cook. "We put the pressure on the ball. Our press hurt them." The Steelerettes started the game in a 2-1-2 zone, but dropped back into a 1-2-2 in the second half. "That gave us a little more strength on the boards," said Cook. "In the first half, we were letting them (Edwardsville) come down the floor and set up. That was a mistake. "In the second half, we pressured them hard and sagged off on their big people inside."

North's strategy

worked. The Steelerettes held Edwardsville to shots mainly from 10-15 feet out. "These aren't really very high percentage shots for a girl," said Cook. "We were getting most of our points from the inside." The Steelerettes held Edwardsville to only nine points in the second half. North scored one more field goal in the game than did the Tigers and made seven more free throws. Edwardsville missed several critical free throws down the stretch. "Their free throw shooting hurt them late in the game," said Cook. "Since it was the season opener for both teams, I think both are capable of playing much better. I think Edwardsville is and I know we are." Cook said that his team's goal is a .500 season. "That's what we said, realistically," he said. "Most of our girls were sophomores last year and they took some lumps. "But that game experience from last season is paying off now. Last year, we might not have known what we had to do to come back like we did against Edwardsville." Cook said that the team will have to improve as the season progresses. "Every team has to," he said. (Continued on Page 29)

Red Devils hand first loss to Assumption, 71-67

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor

VENICE — The Venice Red Devils may have finally convinced themselves that they have to work hard to be as good as everybody tells them they are. The Red Devils overcame a second half rally by East St. Louis Assumption here Tuesday night and handed the Pioneers their first loss of the season 71-67.

The game, played before a packed house at Venice High, was three-fourths Venice and one-fourth Assumption. The Devils shot a red-hot 18-of-30 from the field in the first half and went into the locker room at halftime with a 38-21 lead. But the third quarter was all Assumption. "We didn't shoot that badly in the third quarter," said Venice coach Ken Perkins. "But Assumption hit everything they threw up there."

Indeed, The Pioneers stormed back in that third period to claim a five-point lead twice in the stanza. But Venice managed to stave off the charge well enough to take a one-point lead (48-47) into the fourth quarter.

"We had a lull in sorts in the third quarter," said Perkins. "It wasn't so much that we were playing badly, but that Assumption was starting to play very patiently."

"We got tentative in the third quarter. We stopped doing the things that had gotten that lead."

Venice went back to work in the fourth quarter. What did Perkins tell his team between periods? "We talked about defense first," he said. "We had to stop them (Assumption) from scoring. Once we did that, things just sort of took care of themselves."

Venice's defense did a good job of shutting down Assumption's strong inside attack. "That's Assumption's game," said Perkins. "If you don't get them off the boards, they get the ball back and put it back in the basket. Tonight, we kept them from getting the second and third shots most of the time."

Keith Marchbanks was all over the court for the Red Devils. He scored 16 points and hauled down 19 rebounds. Not too shabby for 5-11. Harold Milton was also a terror on the boards for Venice. He had 15 rebounds.

"We had a big rebounding night," said Perkins. "We had to."

"We packed their zone down tight and tried to keep the ball away from (Joe) Hurst. We had to keep him off the boards."

Venice's guards also had a big night on the boards. They hauled in 28 rebounds between them. "Our guards did a good job," said Perkins. "They contained them well."

Even though Venice was able to keep Hurst off the boards for the most part, he still managed to lead all scorers in the game with 20 points.

Assumption's Tony Berry had 18 points and Darren Foster added 16 for the Pioneers.

Venice sophomore guard Eddie Salmond was co-scoring leader for the Devils. He also pumped in 16 points. Williams Watts added 15 and Milton had 14.

Perkins, who saw his team raise its record to 3-3, said his team was excited about the victory. "The kids wanted this one," he said. "It shows that we aren't that bad after all."

"We've beaten two of the top teams in the area now — Assumption and Lovejoy. And Lebanon isn't all that bad."

"Assumption beat Madison, so that tells our players that we probably should have done better against Madison than we did." Earlier this season, Madison beat Venice easily by 26 points.

"Just because you get beat by Madison doesn't mean all that much. It taught us a few things, I hope. I imagine Madison's saying the same thing about Pinckneyville." Madison was beaten at Pinckneyville last week.

Venice's next action will be this Friday when they host St. Louis Math and Sciences. Junior varsity action will begin at 6:30 p.m. with the varsity game set to begin immediately after.

had 18 points for the winners, who moved into a three-way tie for first place in the league with Waterloo and Trenton with a 2-1 mark.

An easier way to bet

Fairmount's new terminals handle all transactions

By JIM SCHLUETER
For the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — When Fairmount Park Race Track closed up Saturday night after a normal night of racing, the track was not only closing for the night. It was starting a new era.

Immediately following the night's racing, electricians, technicians and supervisors began taking down the old ticket machines at the windows and installing new computerized machines that will make betting at the track quicker and more convenient.

The machines are part of the Amote 300 System by American Totalisator Corp. They will be ready to go Wednesday night. The track will be closed Tuesday, but come Wednesday night, Fairmount Park will look much different.

For one thing, the long lines at the trifecta windows or the cashing lines will be eliminated. With the new machines, all windows can accept bets of all kinds as well as cash winning tickets. If a person wants to bet on a horse to win, place and show and also bet a quinella, he can do this at one window.

"THE NEW system will serve two purposes," said Jack Weaver, assistant track manager. "New efficiency of track operations and patron convenience."

The new machines will originally be more convenient. When cashing a winning ticket, a person hands the ticket to the clerk who runs the ticket through a scanner on the machine which looks like a modern cash register. The scanner immediately tells the clerk and the customer how much was won — in less than a second.

And after the payoff is shown, the person can either collect that amount or bet all or any portion on upcoming races. If the person bets a portion of his winnings, the machine will show how much he will collect, while if he bets more than his winnings, the machine will show how much he still owes.

BUT PERHAPS the biggest asset that 150 machines have is the quickness in selling the special tickets, such as the daily double, quinella and trifecta tickets. No longer will there need to be long lines at a few trifecta windows. Every window can handle them.

In addition, the possible combinations of winning tickets when a customer wishes to wheel a horse on top of the trifecta or box horses in the trifecta. Instead of punching out a ticket for each combination, the clerk can make the transaction with one ticket.

Another benefit of the new system is that after the first race, the patrons will be able to bet any future race that night and leave. Any window can cash previous day tickets up to one year.

Obviously, some adjustment will be needed in the new relationship between the clerks and the patrons, but the new system is easy to understand, simpler and much quieter. The programs at Fairmount explain in detail how to bet with the new system, and it would be advisable to check it over before placing bets.

But what is important to remember is that every window can handle any amount and any type of wager and cash all tickets.

All one needs to tell the clerk is the amount of the bet, the type of bet (a win, place, show, daily double, quinella, trifecta), and the program number of the horse or horses.

The Bay Family

Tabernacle plans special services

"Connie Finds The Real Christmas" a play depicting a special Christmas message, will be presented by The Bay Family at 6 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 20, at the Old Camp Meeting Tabernacle, West 22nd Street and Bryan Avenue, according to Rev. Edward Linhart, pastor.

The Bay family resides in the Quad-City area when they are not on tour as family evangelists traveling throughout the country. A holiday party for the young people of the church and friends will be hosted at the church at 7 p.m. Friday, Dec. 18, the minister added. Another project of the congregation during the Christmas season is inviting people to attend services Sunday in an effort to top the record attendance set at Easter, Rev. Linhart said. Rev. Linhart extends an invitation to all area residents to attend the Sunday School hour at 10 a.m. or the worship services set for 11 a.m. Sunday. "We have a goal of 200 attending Sunday and anyone who wishes to join the congregation and needs transportation is advised to call 797-0895 or 451-9801," Rev. Linhart explained.

Joy Circle meets in Glen Carbon

Norma and Sherri Michalmer of Glen Carbon, hosted the Joy Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, last week. "Dickie's Christmas" was the story told by Mrs. Michalmer for the lesson followed by a poem entitled, "Christmas Gifts" read by Sharon Reader. Mrs. Reader also shared some of Erna Brombeck's thoughts on gift giving.

SS Cyril & Methody welcomes new pastor

The Rev. Steven Kostoff, a native of Detroit, Mich., has assumed the duties of pastor of SS Cyril & Methody Eastern Orthodox Church, 470 Maryville Road, and is in the process of planning traditional Christmas services.

Church school will convene at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday to be followed by Divine Liturgy at 10 a.m. on Saturday evening. The 9 o'clock Great Vespers will be held.

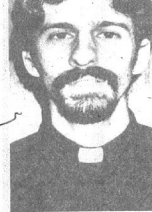

Liturgical services for Christmas will begin at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 23, with Royal Hours (Psalms) hymns, and scripture readings. Thursday, Dec. 24, at 9 a.m. will be the liturgy of St. Basil The Great with old testament prophecies.

Thursday, Dec. 24, at 11 p.m. will be Matins and at 12 midnight, the liturgy of St. John Chrysostom.

Rev. Kostoff was assigned to the newly organized church by Bishop Kyrill of Toledo, Ohio, during the summer.

Groundbreaking for the construction of the new edifice was held on Oct. 5, 1980, and since that time progress on the church has continued and is nearly completed with the exception a small part of the interior. The remainder of the work is expected to be finished in time for the Easter celebrations, Rev. Kostoff explained.

The congregation now has

a registered membership of 80 people and a 17 member Board of Directors.

Rev. Kostoff received his early education in Detroit schools and graduated from Wayne State College in Detroit, where he majored in Russian. He then enrolled at St. Vladimir Orthodox Theological Seminary in Crestwood, N. Y., where he graduated.

He was ordained on June 18, 1981, at St. Paul Orthodox Cathedral in Dearborn Heights, Mich., by Bishop Kyrill of Toledo.

Rev. Kostoff and his wife, Deborah, are the parents of a 15-month old daughter, Sophia, and they now reside in Granite City.

Officers installed at Christmas meet

An installation of newly elected officers and a Christmas carol song fest was the highlight of the annual Christmas potluck meeting of the St. Elizabeth Presbyterian Women held last week at the First United Presbyterian Church.

After dinner Mrs. Isabel Schmidt, church officer, accompanied the carolers. The Rev. David Maxton served as installing officer for Mrs. Robert Browning, president, Mrs. Bernadine Cooley, vice-president, Mrs. Betty Schmiedeknecht, treasurer, Mrs. Burdine Holtzsch, secretary. Also Mrs. Dee Roberts, mission interpretation coordinator, Mrs. Ethel Beeler, study coordinator, and Mrs. Lillian Howe, involvement and action coordinator.

Rev. Maxton used "Transportation" as the installation theme and gave each officer a symbolic trinket as he "provided" them with a way to attend the meetings. He read several statistics which indicated the importance of the activities of the women of the church, following with the charge, not only to the officers, but to the members of the organization requesting their support.

Mrs. Florence Woodward conducted the meeting in the absence of the retiring president, Mrs. Beeler, who was ill.

Officers reports were accepted and a commendation from St. Elizabeth Medical Center was read in which appreciation was expressed to the women for the $500 donation to Mobile Meals. The Mission Yearbook of Prayer devotions were given by the secretary with concern for the day to be the Philippines.

Mrs. Virginia Rickett spotted and expressed appreciation to those who assisted with the annual church bazaar.

A report from the bazaar committee noted contributions from the project will be sent to World Hunger, John Hyson Presbyterian Mission in Chinayao, N.M., to the Oasis Center in Alton, and Alpha House, Granite City. Other allocations will be made at a later date for the remaining portion of the receipts, including purchases of equipment for the church, it was noted.

Mrs. Louise Mull served as chairman of the fund raising project this year with Mrs. Florence Woodward to assume the duties for the 1982 event.

A memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Browning for three members of the organization who have died during the year, Mrs. Helen Watson, Mrs. Loretta Pearson and Mrs. Elizabeth Deffenbaugh.

Three new members, Mrs. Frances Williams, Mrs. Irene Gray and Mrs. Ella Wade, were welcomed. The meeting closed as members repeated the Mizpah benediction.

S.C.A.T., the Senior Citizens Association of Tri-Cities which is sponsored by the Tri-City Park Tabernacle Church at 3400 Maryville Road, reports great success in their progress in servicing the needs of many senior citizens in this area, according to Associate Pastor C. E. Barr.

The choir, under the direction of Associate Pastor Don Stratton will be performing selections from their upcoming cantata, "Noel, Jesus is Born."

In addition to social functions, some very successful craft classes have been offered on a bi-weekly basis and free transportation is provided for those who desire it.

Membership in the S.C.A.T. Program has grown from 30 to over 200 in just a few months and S.C.A.T. is also providing a telephone ministry which has almost weekly contact with each of the 200. The home maintenance committee is accepting all calls for help in minor repair needs on a free will basis, Rev. Barr explained.

Rev. C. E. Barr, said a good van or bus is needed to take the senior citizens on tours, outings, shopping etc. The next project of S.C.A.T. is to open a non-profit Budget Center where senior citizens and other needy persons can purchase items of used clothing, furniture, etc., at greatly reduced prices.

Other plans include a senior citizen fix-it shop to assist in minor repairs to small appliances and furniture. At the present time the services of S.C.A.T. are funded by free will offerings of volunteer workers and without any federal, state or local subsidies or assistance, Rev. Barr noted.

S.C.A.T. is a community wide, non-sectarian service open to all senior citizens regardless of their race or creed. Anyone desiring further information may contact the group at 931-4500, Pastor Barr added.

Mitchell church to show 'Shiokari Pass'

"Shiokari Pass," a new film from the producers of "The Hiding Place," will be shown at First Baptist Church, 608 English Place, Thursday, Dec. 31.

The one-hour color release from World Wide Pictures will be shown once, beginning at 8:45 p.m.

"Shiokari Pass" has an English soundtrack, but it was originally produced for showing to Japanese audiences. It was filmed entirely in Japan with a Japanese cast and crew, and depicts the delicate beauty of that country.

The drama of the story unfolds against a backdrop of Japan's spring blossoms, snow-capped mountains, and whispering native music.

A true story, "Shiokari Pass" is based on the international best seller by Ayako Miyake. Nearly two million readers have viewed this story of the abiding love of a young couple at the turn of the century.

Credited with creating a deeper understanding of the Christian faith among the Japanese people, the film tells of the love of Nubuo for Fujiko, and of his willingness to be guided by his personal faith, no matter how great the cost of commitment.

From its gentle opening to its gripping, unexpected conclusion, "Shiokari Pass" is a profound demonstration of the power of love in one life.

The Rev. Rick Jones, pastor of First Baptist of Mitchell, is extending an invitation to the community to attend this showing and added, "Shiokari Pass" is the kind of film that will be enjoyed and remembered by the entire family.

There will be no admission charge for the film program.

Truth Circle installs

The Truth Circle of the Niedringhaus United Methodist Women were hostesses for the general meeting in Wesley Hall, last week.

As is the custom, the program for the December meeting was the 1982 pledge service and installation of officers. The pledge service was highlighted by a skit concerning the pennies, nickles, dimes, quarters, half-dollars, and dollar bills are given by the United Methodist Women and the results that these gifts can accomplish. Participants in the skit were Golda Boyle, Sharon Shaffer, Sharon Ellebracht, Shirley Lane, Shirley Frick and Wanda Groves. The group then sang Joy To The World, accompanied by Mary Ahlvers.

The officers for 1982 were presented to Mrs. Dorothy Luckert, district president of the United Methodist Women. Officers are Sharon Ellebracht, president, Shirley Frick vice-president, Wanda Groves, secretary, Dolores Allen, treasurer, Golda Boyle, chairman on nominations, Ethel Lerch, membership, Lorelei Jennings, coordinator of Christian Personhood, Dorothy Frohardt, coordinator for Global Concerns, Mabel Gerlach, coordinator for Social Involvement, Dolores Vogler, coordinator for Supportive Community and Shirley Lane, secretary of Program Resources.

Mrs. Luckert conducted an installation service, comparing the responsibilities for these officers to some of the women in the Bible, from both the Old and New Testament.

Actions were taken concerning a gift to the March To The Manger, the 1982 bazaar, the 1982 budget, and a donation to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights.

Dolores Vogler announced the plans for the upcoming live nativity scene on Dec. 15, 16 and 17 and she, with Ethel Lerch, discussed the blood drive on Dec. 28, 29 and 30. Donors from the church and community are urgently needed, they added.

$25 million earmarked for rail relocations

Governor James R. Thompson has announced that Congressional approval of federal transportation proposals including special provisions for rail relocations here — could provide $688 million for high-speed railroads — for initial construction projects in the state.

"Congressional approval of the joint resolution, that include funding for transportation, was a significant step in maintaining Illinois' share of federal transportation funds," Thompson said.

"That approval further helps lock up special provisions we have been seeking that will finance $178 million in highway, rail freight and transit projects. Although Congress took an important step in assuring the funding for Illinois, we will have to continue to press our case with the federal administration for these funds."

"Like every other state, we are still taking a cut in overall federal funding as part of the effort to reduce the federal budget deficit, but we have worked to prevent that cut from unfairly falling on Illinois," he said.

Governor Thompson, since January, has made 22 trips to Washington, D.C. to press the state's case for transportation funding and other issues.

Congress Friday approved and sent to the president a joint resolution which provides funding for federal government operations and grants through March 31, 1982.

Funds specifically earmarked for transportation projects in Illinois were: $138 million in interstate transfer funds for highway and a donation to the Southeastern Illinois. The transit portion of the total is estimated at $24 million.

Plus $15 million in federal rail funds to the Regional Transit Authority, Chicago, for commuter rail services. These funds are in addition to any funds that would otherwise be used by the RTA for commuter rail service.

Another $5 million in a Federal Railroad Administration grant for engineering on the St. Louis Metropolitan Rail Gateway Enterprise (MARGE) project in this region. This project would consolidate rail yards in the East St.

Louis and St. Louis areas, improving rail freight operations. It would also free up prime riverfront land for economic redevelopment.

Also $20 million in preference share financing — low cost government loans — to railroads — for initial construction of the MARGE project.

In addition to the earmarked amounts, Congress retained language giving priority to the U.S. 51 Freeway from Rockford, Decatur and the Chicago to Kansas City highway from Quincy to Peoria for priority primary funding.

Thompson said, "Members of the Illinois congressional delegation have played a tremendous role in securing the funds. We also have had outstanding help from members of the Missouri delegation on the St. Louis area rail project, as well as key assistance from Congressman Adam Benjamin of Indiana."

New directories arrive

R. L. Polk & Co. of Taylor, Mich., has started delivery of the 1981 Tri-Cities Directory, including Granite City, Madison, Mitchell, Venice, Arlington and Pontoon Beach. This latest edition is being delivered to local subscribers.

The directory contains four major departments, along with an introduction and statistical and general review of the community.

First the classified section contains a list of the names and addresses of business and professional concerns arranged in alphabetical order under their appropriate classified headings.

The alphabetical section of the directory shows the name, marital status, occupation and address of each resident of the Quad-City area 18 years of age or older.

Each business is listed and includes the name of officers, owners, or managers; kind of business and address.

The third section is the directory of householders and businesses. This section lists the numbered streets in alphabetical order, followed by the named streets in alphabetical order. The residents on every street are shown, along with the telephone number at each address. New neighbors are identified by a star appearing between street number and name of occupant. Intersecting streets are shown.

The numerical telephone directory is the last major section of the book. Telephones are listed in numerical order with the individual or business who has the number listed alongside.

County board competition here for all except Milton and Dutko

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

There is Democratic primary election competition for six of the eight local Madison County Board positions as well as for the county treasurer and sheriff nominations.

One of the eight board seats here is sought by as many as two Republicans, and another is sought by one Republican. Filing of candidacy petitions ended on Monday evening.

Only Herbert Milton and Frank Dutko among local County Board candidates is unopposed in both the primary and general elections in 1982. They are seeking re-election.

Filing began Dec. 7 and ended on Monday, Dec. 14, at the office of County Clerk Evelyn Bowles in the County Courthouse at Edwardsville.

Only one Republican filed for countywide office in Madison County, Bob Barton (operator of a Nameoki Township real estate and insurance business) for county treasurer. But he is a number of GOP (Grand Old Party) contenders for County Board nominations.

Additional countywide Republican candidates are expected to be chosen through write-in campaigns. A three-way race for the Democratic nomination for county treasurer involves incumbent Treasurer Michael "Mike" Hienrichs of Bethalto, Fred Painter of the Quad-City area and Supervisor Robert C. Stille of Edwardsville.

Sheriff Emil J. Toffant of Madison is seeking the Democratic sheriff nomination, opposed by Ralph Dewey Brawley, retired Venice police chief. Brawley said Tuesday he had planned to appear before the Democratic party's screening panel to seek endorsement for sheriff but was unaware that the interviews were scheduled for Dec. 11 and 12 and thus did not attend.

There is no opposition in the March primary for County Clerk Bowles of Edwardsville and County Regional School Superintendent Harold E. "Gene" Briggs of the Granite City area. Both are Democrats. Republican County Board nominations are being sought by Terry Niedhardt and Eric L. McDowell in the Mitchell area, District 16, and by Robert L. Brave of Nameoki Township, in District 25.

Other GOP candidates for nomination to the County Board are: Elmer J. Luber and Pat Urban of the Highland area in District One, incumbent Homer Henke of Moro in Four, incumbent Herschel F. Beane of Godfrey in Five, William Aery and incumbent James R. Heil in Six, John Jay Dick and Gary Pratt in Seven, Nathaniel Frison in Eight, Dorothy "Dottie" Speer in Nine, William Michael Dean in 10, Viola "Chub" Herrington and John A. Mull of Edwardsville in 11, incumbent Jack Griffin in District 13, James Oglesby in 17, Dottie Cummings in 26, Donna Graham in 27 and Joseph M. Mannisi in 28.

No Republicans filed for the Madison County Board in Districts Two, Three, 12, 14, 15, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24 and 29.

The only County Board districts failing to attract a candidate in the Democratic primary were District One, the Highland area, and District Four, the Moro area. Quad-Cityans seeking County Board nominations in the March 16 Democratic primary are: District 16 incumbent, Morris W. Miles of Mitchell, opposed by Marion "Sparky" Sparks and Chester E. Whyers Sr.; District 19 incumbent, William B. Webb of Granite City, opposed in the primary by Mrs. Helen M. Hawkins, a member of the Nameoki Township board; District 20 incumbent Nelson "Nellie" Hagauer of Granite City (County Board chairman), opposed for the Dist. 20 board post by Woodrow "Woody" Moad.

Also, District 21 in Granite City (Daniel Partney did not seek re-election), Robert E. Gaghan, Vasil Effimoff and Joseph R. McGinnis Sr.; Granite City District 22 incumbent Herbert "Junior" Milton of Granite City, unopposed.

And District 23 incumbent Roderick Bauder of Venice, opposed by Don Garrett of Madison and David E. Partney of Nameoki Township; District 24 incumbent Frank Dutko of Madison, unopposed; and District 25 incumbent Richard Peck of Nameoki Township, opposed by Donald C. Rea, Louis Zeehoff Jr. and Homer Boothman, the latter of State Park Place (a former County Board member).

In addition to Daniel Partney not seeking re-election, no filing was listed for Louis Whitsett, whose district was combined with that of Peck.

Other Democrats seeking County Board nominations are: District Two, incumbent Alan J. Dunstan of Troy, unopposed; Three, incumbent H. Jack Frandsen of Alhambra, unopposed; Five, Robert L. "Bole" Widge, unopposed; Seven, incumbent William L. "Bill" Little, unopposed; Eight, incumbent William R. Hain of Alton, unopposed; Nine, Richard Hugh Worthen of Alton, unopposed; 10, incumbent Harold "Gator" Roberts of Alton, opposed by Dwight E. Sumner; 11, John E. Clark and Charles R. Burns of Pin Oak Township (new district).

Also, District 12, incumbent Anthony "Tony" Bosch, opposed by H. W. "Bud" Hotsen; 13, candidates Leroy Kuehnell and Dennis L. Dubbeldie; 14, incumbent James "Jim" Stalcup, opposed by Rudolph Papa; 15, incumbent George A. Schmittling, opposed by C. Major; 17, incumbent Donald W. McLean of Edwardsville, unopposed; 18, incumbent Charles F. Bode of Edwardsville, opposed by Ray "90" Neuschwander; 26, Nick J. Hamilton of Edwardsville, Lester Munert of Glen Carbon and Richard "Jake" Carter of Edwardsville (new district); 27, incumbent Michael Senaun, unopposed; 28, incumbent Fred A. Dalton of Collinsville, unopposed; and 29, incumbent Frank Vivod of Kankakee, unopposed in the Democratic primary.

There was multiple filing for some Illinois statewide office nominations by Republicans, but less filing activity among the Democrats, who had chosen a party slate for the primary election.

The Democratic central committee's slate consists of Adlai E. Stevenson III, former U. S. senator, for governor; Mrs. Gracy Mary Siern of Highland Park, Lake County clerk, for lieutenant governor; Neil F. Hartigan, Chicago, former lieutenant governor, for attorney general; State Treasurer Jerome Cosentino, Palos Heights, for the secretary of state nomination; State Comptroller Roland W. Burris, Chicago, to remain in that office; and a state senator, James H. Donnewald, Breese, for state senator.

Heading the list seeking Republican state nominations are James R. Thompson of Chicago, Attorney General Tyrone Fahner of Evanston and Secretary of State Jim Edgar of Springfield.

Fahner and Edgar, Thompson appointees, are unopposed in the primary. Gov. Thompson, hoping for a third term, is opposed in March by V. A. Roche of Beecher and John E. Kelley of Palos Park.

Rivals for the GOP lieutenant governor nomination are House Speaker George H. Ryan of Kankakee, endorsed by Thompson; State Sen. Donald Totten of Hoffman Estates, President Ronald Reagan's Illinois campaign chairman in 1980; and State Rep. Susan K. Catania of Chicago.

The governor and lieutenant governor positions are voted on separately in the primary and then combined on the general election ballot in November.

Filing for the Republican state comptroller nomination were Robert Hall of Chicago and Cal L. Skinner Jr. of Woodstock. The latter, a former state representative, filed nine minutes before the deadline on Monday.

Candidates for the GOP state treasurer nomination are former House Speaker W. Robert Blair of Crete and John P. Dailey of Peoria. Judicial candidates filing at Springfield included Circuit Judge Charles W. Chapman of Edwardsville. He seeks the Democratic nomination for the Third Circuit Court judgeship formerly held by Victor J. Moselle. This is a resident judgeship, with voting occurring only in Madison County.

For the resident Bond County judgeship formerly held by John L. DeLaurenti of Pocatonton, the only candidate is DeLaurenti, a Democrat. He ran circuit-wide for retention in 1980, being rejected by a narrow margin, when retention is not the issue, such as in 1982, voting takes place for this position only in Bond County. Moselle is a resident judge. This is a resident judgeship, with voting occurring only in Madison County. Rarick of Troy is running for the Democratic nomination for a judicial post formerly held by Republican Harold L. Clark.

Circuit Judge George Moran Jr., Democrat of Granite City, filed for the judicial position once held by Moses W. Harrison of Collinsville. That post also is being sought by Republican William C. "Chuck" Evers III of Collinsville.

Associate Judge P. J. O'Neill of Alton is unopposed in the Democratic primary to move up to the circuit judgeship of Joseph J. Barr. Chief Judge Barr, 62, of Wood River, is retiring after 32 years as a judge, including eight years as probate judge and 24 years as a circuit judge.

Filing is scheduled for Dec. 28 through Jan. 4 for U. S. Senate, U. S. Congress, Illinois Senate and Illinois House nominations.

All Congressional and all state legislative districts have been altered due to the once-each-decade census and reapportionment.

County Board positions are to be decided simultaneously in November 1982.

Formerly, about half of the board members ran for four-year terms at one time, and voters then decided the holders of overlapping four-year terms two years later. The change is one of many resulting from the Illinois election consolidation law.

Schools succeeding on their student health goals

A preliminary report from the Illinois State Board of Education shows that all of Illinois' 1,011 public school districts have reported at least 90 percent compliance with student immunization and health examination requirements for 1981-82.

Illinois law requires that all school children be protected against polio, diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis (whooping cough), measles and rubella unless they have a medical or religious exemption. Protection may be either by vaccination or from having had the disease.

The law also stipulates that students who are entering schools for the first time, or who are beginning fifth or ninth grades, must have physical examinations. According to the Illinois Department of Public Health, 90 percent of the children in Illinois need to be immunized against the six diseases in order to prevent epidemics.

State Superintendent of Education Donald G. Gill said the districts have done a "remarkable job of fully implementing immunization and health examination requirements that are so important to the well-being of the children."

"The performances of the local districts, with the cooperation of parents and health professionals, have been outstanding," Gill said. "The efforts of those involved go a long way toward ensuring a healthy school year for our kids."

Districts must report to the State Board their compliance levels on Oct. 15 of each year.

The law requires that 10 percent of each state aid payment be withheld from public school districts reporting less than 90 percent compliance with the immunization and health examination requirements.

The 1981-82 school year is the first time districts were required to achieve 90 percent compliance. In 1980-81, they were required to have 80 percent compliance. Last year, 93 percent of the districts had compliance levels of 90 percent or higher.

Non-public schools also report immunization information to the State Board. About 80 percent, or 1,200, of the non-public schools have submitted their data. Compliance levels have not yet been computed for the non-public schools.

Information collected from the schools each fall is shared with the Illinois Department of Public Health so staff members can pinpoint regions, counties and schools where resources can best be used to prevent disease outbreaks.

Local school officials can also use the data to organize follow-up procedures, such as private physician referrals or in-school clinics, to prevent major epidemics, Dr. Gill explained.

As an indication of the effectiveness of immunization programs, he noted, "In 1979, there were 1,650 cases of measles reported in Illinois, and that figure dropped to 350 cases by 1980."

"During the 1977-78 school year, only 53 percent of our kindergarten children were fully protected against polio. That level of protection is now over 90 percent."

Bandit takes hauler's wallet

Displaying a small silver handgun, a bandit obtained a tan wallet from a trash hauler, Steven Goodbrake of South Roxana, here Monday. The wallet contained a driving license and personal papers but no money.

The youth being sought is in his mid-teens, 5-7 to 5-8 tall, 135 pounds, medium blond hair parted in the middle, thin build, and freckles. He was wearing faded blue jeans and a blue jean jacket.

Goodbrake had emptied a trash container at the Plaza Laundromat, Nameoki Road and E. 25th Street, and was getting back into his truck when the youth pointed a gun at him and demanded his wallet.

Ordered to drive away without stopping, Goodbrake drove to Fehling and Nameoki roads, where he reported the robbery to police.

Officers located a suspect walking along Ridgedale Avenue but no positive identification could be made at the time.

Winter Storm Week is proclaimed, motorists should 'be prepared'

Victor H. Koenig, Granite City Office of Emergency Preparedness (Civil Defense) director, has announced that Gov. James R. Thompson has proclaimed this week Winter Storm Preparedness Week in Illinois.

The proclamation states that winter storms produce more total damage in the state than any other form of severe weather.

In the past four winters, the state has experienced 43 severe storms leading to $3.9 billion in damage and 106 deaths.

Major winter storms strand large numbers of people and bring an interruption of medical, fire, police, mail, power and communications services, as well as closed schools and businesses, resulting in lost revenues. The holiday season is a period of increased travel and high probability for severe winter weather.

The Illinois Emergency Services and Disaster Agency, the Illinois Department of Energy and Natural Resources and numerous other state, federal and private agencies are attempting to inform and educate the public on protective measures which should be taken to prepare for the 1981-82 winter season.

By taking reasonable precautions, the residents of the state can reduce the loss of life and property, plus decrease the adverse effects of winter on the energy resources and the economy.

As part of the Winter Storm Preparedness Week, proclaimed by Gov. Thompson, the Illinois Emergency Services and Disaster Agency offers advice on how to develop a vehicle survival kit.

According to Emergency Services, such a kit could mean the difference between life and death should a motorist's vehicle become stranded during blizzard conditions. If a motorist becomes trapped, his biggest problem will be to keep warm.

To assemble the kit, a two or three pound coffee can would be adequate for storing the following items.

Food items that could be easily stored include packages of dry soup; dried fruits; beef jerky; bouillon cubes; instant coffee; tea; instant hot candy; candy bars of chocolate candy and gum.

First aid equipment and which could become useful in emergency situations includes bandages and tissues. Essential prescription medicine and aspirin also should be in supply.

General items needed in the motorist survival kit are wild-base short candles, several books of matches, a compass, spoons, small flashlight, extra batteries, insulated cups and small pie tins.

Although the food suggestions may be altered to fit individual preferences, chocolate and dried fruits are "good quick-energy sources to help you produce body heat," according to Emergency Services.

The agency also suggests a ski mask be placed over the entire survival can and a stocking cap on top of the ski mask. "This is especially important since 50 to 75 percent of body heat is lost through the head. Attach mittens or gloves to the ski cap and place the kit in the back seat of the car, rather than the trunk, for easy accessibility," the agency suggests.

The coffee container can also double as a container to hold the soup, coffee or tea to help keep the motorist's body warm. Make two small holes in the can near the upper lip and loop string or wire through these to enable the motorist to hang the can from the rear-view mirror, it is suggested.

Motorists are advised to place the candle in the small pie tin to heat the snow which can be placed in the can. As the snow melts to water and becomes hot, add the soup or other instant ingredients, it is suggested.

Emergency Services also suggests that motorists keep extra blankets, flares, salt or sand, a shovel and a fire extinguisher in the car, along with an extra three-pound coffee can for sanitary facilities.

If a motorist must travel during severe weather conditions, he should not travel alone or should not wander from primary routes. These routes are more heavily traveled and are the first to be patrolled and cleared by law enforcement agencies and emergency workers.

Motorists are asked to remember, that should they become trapped on the road, "Don't leave your car if help is not readily available. Use the engine and heating system briefly with the downwind window slightly cracked to prevent carbon monoxide poisoning. Exercise by clapping hands and sleep in shifts, if more than one person is in the vehicle."

Additional severe weather preparedness information may be obtained by contacting the local Emergency Services Disaster Agency coordinator.

New book theft laws are posted at GCPL

The Granite City Public Library has requested that new state library theft laws, which make some book thefts a felony offense, be posted at the downtown and branch libraries.

Librarian Robert Stack, director, said missing volumes are a "real and frustrating" problem at the downtown library. Stack said he is particularly affected by stolen reference books. Not only are reference volumes expensive, but often the theft is not discovered until the specialized information contained in the missing volume is needed.

Joan Yetter, board president, presented the new theft laws to the board last month. The new "protection of library materials" law was passed by the state legislature in October.

The law makes it a crime for a library patron to remove library material from the premises of a library, without authority. According to the new laws, it is not necessary for the materials to actually be taken from the library for a "theft" to have place.

Anyone who intentionally conceals any library material, while still in the library, and removes such material beyond the last point in the library where checkout would normally take place also is in violation.

Anyone who uses the library card of another without his consent to check out materials, also is stealing library material. If a library card has been revoked, cancelled, altered or expired, the user of such a card is committing an unlawful act.

A theft also takes place if anyone borrows more than $300 of library material, according to proper library

Honors to local girl in large read-a-thon

Dixie Lynn Price, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Price, 2319 Zippel Ave., is the third-place finisher in the Multiple Sclerosis Read-A-Thon in a 79 county wide area.

As an MS Mystery Sleuth, Miss Price helped raise funds to try to find a cure for multiple sclerosis. Mrs. Price said her daughter has a special reason for participating in the program, since she (Mrs. Price) is a victim of the disease.

Mrs. Price said MS affects the central nervous system and can cause tremors of the hand, affect the ability to walk and be the source of eye problems, among other complications. She said each individual with the disease is affected in a different way.

"They don't know the cure, therefore, there is no cure," Mrs. Price said. With so many options to explore for a cure, "money for research is very important at this time," she said.

Besides raising funds for research, the MS Read-a-thon donates money to the St. Louis Chapter of the National MS Society for patient services and contributes funds to supply "loan closet" of canes, walkers and other aides to MS victims.

Individuals in the area pledged contributions for each book read by Miss Price, who read more than 30 books for the read-a-thon.

Miss Price won an electronic game for placing third and she and her parents have been invited to an awards dinner, which will be hosted by Jim Hart, a quarterback with the Football Cardinals.

She is a student at Parkview School, under the instruction of Jane Jackstodt. Miss Price is a Brownie and as a member of a basketball team sponsored by the Mitchell Athletic Association.

Entertainment, food brighten Hospice benefit dance here

Proceeds from the weekend Christmas party to aid Hospice of Madison County total nearly $2,000, according to Shirley Adams, chairman of the event.

"We have a few more bills to pay, but it looks like we will end up with approximately $2,000 to give to Hospice. I wish it was $6,000 or more, but I am sure it will help," she said.

The event was held in the Kettler Center gymnasium at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and attracted 145 persons. It started out as the annual Christmas party of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's (BPW) Club, but the idea of making the event public and raising funds for Hospice was added this year.

Executives and officials of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and its Women's Division also were invited and many attended, including the Chamber's new executive director, Alan Richardson.

Those attending were fed a traditional Christmas buffet, including ham, turkey and "all the fixings," prepared by Mary Broninski. They also were entertained by several groups, including Howard Bolton's "Alley Cats" band, the Southern Express Swing Chior of Granite City High School South, a surprise visit by a chorus line from the Marge Salem School of Dance and visits by Mr. and Miss Santa Claus, James Kopsic and Miss Jacque Boatman.

"mini-New Year's Eve" celebration was held, including hats and horns supplied by the dance school, the chorus line performing Broadway songs and the traditional singing of Auld Lang Syne. The promised "special surprise" came during the early New Year's Eve celebration as waiters from Charlie's Restaurant arrived and served sparkling champagne to those present, compliments of Charles Hester.

Hester's donation was but one of many made by members of the Madison County Tavern Owners' Association to assist the Hospice fund-raiser. The gymnasium was decorated in a Christmas theme by BPW members. The tables had centerpieces with red and green candles and live poinsettia plants surrounded the room.

The Rev. Sheldon Culver offered the invocation and Rosemarie Lindner, public relations director for Hospice of Madison County thanked everyone for coming and explained the Hospice program. She also recognized several of the persons responsible for creating Hospice here and thanked them for their work. Shirley Adams also thanked her co-chairman of the party, Jeanette Scannell, Tina Thomas, Helen Bischoff, Sylvia Wright and Nina Limbaugh. Additional funds were raised through the sale of hand-made Christmas items, home-baked pastries and the sale of fruit baskets, flowers and centerpieces.

Bonus for school staff's attendance; assistance project

To recognize regular attendance by school employees, the Granite City Board of Education on Tuesday night adopted a policy to grant $200 jump sum payments after June 30, 1982, to those reaching their maximum number of days of accumulated sick leave.

Such a payment also will be made for each year thereafter that the maximum accumulation is sustained, or that absences do not reduce the maximum number of days by more than one percent.

Superintendent B. J. Davis said the intent of the new policy is to "recognize those employees who have acquired and maintained excellent attendance records."

"It is felt that this will give recognition to them for their loyalty and dedication to the school district and to the pupils we serve."

The board also extended to the 1982-83 school year its policy of considering exploratory leaves for certificated personnel.

Under such a leave of absence, a year is provided—without pay—to explore employment in a different career, than education. The superintendent is to be responsible for the issuance and execution of appropriate administrative policy, rules and regulations to govern the program.

The board also expanded three existing policies to include revisions already approved by the board. They relate to the health and life insurance plan, insurance coverage for certain retired employees, and sick leave for administrators.

A discussion was held Tuesday night on a staff development or assistance proposal, through which seminars, training or counseling would be made available to employees volunteering to participate.

After comments and suggestions are obtained from employees on a tentative outline of the plan, it will be considered by the board for action at its Jan. 19 meeting.

No Board of Education session is planned Jan. 5 due to the effect of the holiday vacation period on the time needed for preparation of agenda reports.

Supt. Davis told the board that "for the past two months, I have been working on a program for staff development—development in the sense that I believe we need to recognize the real possibility of teacher or employee 'burn out.' The reason for this is the normal stress found in school districts, plus the feeling of loneliness sometimes experienced by employees in a large district."

"In a survey that was conducted by school employees, we found the normal amount of disgruntlement. But, on the whole, the morale was normal."

"I believe that to have a successful school district, we need to continue to strive to have above-normal morale among staff members. I also believe there is a need for a different approach to improvement of school programs."

"We have spent a great deal of time in re-working our curriculum. This work by the staff has produced some excellent programs."

"The programs, in and of themselves, however, do not guarantee success. They are simply avenues to travel toward success. The real success will depend on the individuals and groups delivering these services."

Supt. Davis related that he has asked for a combination grant from Tenco, a ten-county educational funding region, and from St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Granite City, in order to "approach these situations in a different manner than is being approached in today's educational programs."

There would be no cost to the school system for the 1981-82 school year.

If the plan is implemented during this spring and then is continued in 1982-83, there would be an estimated cost of $2,000 in the fall of 1982—subject to board approval at that time and subject to whether evaluations indicate approval by the board. They relate to the health and life insurance plan, insurance coverage for certain retired employees, and sick leave for administrators.

The current school year's cost of $7,300 would be paid from a $2,000 grant by SEMC and $5,300 in federal Title IV-C funds obtained through Tenco. The $2,000 is from a state grant SEMC received to be used in such a manner.

Employee assistance would be provided to help an individual requesting it would be personal problems, an alcoholism, drug abuse, family, marital, emotional, psychiatric, legal or financial matters.

Board Member Monroe Worthen praised the concept and emphasized the value of obtaining staff ideas after employees have studied details of the plan, rather than the staff reacting to a verbal explanation.

Board Member Robert Metcalf said it is uncertain whether many employees would utilize the program, and Worthen said the aid program would have its best prospect of usage if all help in developing it.

Tentative ideas include utilization of some SEMC personnel and meeting facilities. Assistance would be offered to school employees and to members of their families.

All services would be confidential. Reports to the school system for grant purposes would refer only to statistical participation

mander, and Joseph Hefferly, adjutant and national DAV deputy chief of staff, Department of Illinois. Seated is Frank Bautsch, SEMC director of security. The new Lifeline system provides a safe alternative to nursing home care for the elderly and handicapped.

Felony property damage was alleged as police arrested Brett E. Basden, 17, of 2632 North St. and Bradley J. Sullivan, 19, of 2465 Fontenot Road early this week.

It is contended that a knife was used to puncture all four tires on the parked 1976 auto of Brian Smithson at a restaurant parking lot on Johnson Road. The tires were valued at a total of $300.

The same knife allegedly also was used to scratch paint on the hood and right side of the car.

A passerby alerted police, who halted Basden's auto in the area.

Basden was freed on $502 cash bail at 5:10 p.m. Monday. Sullivan was held pending the posting of bond.

Historical club studies the growth and floods of Venice

The Old Six Mile Historical Society held its December meeting at Tri-Mor Bowl with about 30 persons present to study the history of Venice. President Ron Coleman conducted a brief business meeting and announced that the necessary statements had been turned over to the society's attorney, Marvin Barnes, for filing. He also announced that the first newsletter will be issued in late December or early January.

Francis Judd presented a picture donated by the family of a former Commonwealth Steel worker that was taken at the eighth annual banquet of the Commonwealth Club. He also exhibited a large advertisement for real estate sales in the area that promised only $1 down and $1 a week to buy property in Granite City.

Coleman introduced Mrs. Margaret Lee and Mrs. Margaret Painter, both of whom spoke on the early history of Venice. Mrs. Painter did much research on Venice for the Bicentennial celebration and she spoke about the first hundred years. She introduced her father, William Olenford, who will be 95 this week, and is a member of the oldest family in Venice.

Venice is the oldest city in the area on this side of the river with the early settlers arriving in 1800 to 1810, when there was no transportation across the river. A ferry was established and horses walking on a treadmill of barrels provided the ferry's power.

The first house in Venice was built from cottonwood timber. "Bloody Island," in the vicinity, got its name from the men who went there to fight their duels—one man never came home from each duel.

Venice became the terminus of the old wagon route which connected the East with the West. The present Broadway was previously called the Old Rock Road and the National Road.

After the flood of Nov. 22, 1841, the town was named Venice. Another flood in 1844 left only three buildings in the town and again in 1851, most of the town was swept away. The last flood was in 1903. Floods have been the greatest catastrophes of Venice, according to Mrs. Painter.

The first Methodist Church was built in 1860 on the site of the present church and in 1892 the Catholic Church was built on the present site.

The East and West were linked in 1873 by the building of the Eads Bridge. In 1890, the Merchants Bridge was built, causing an extension of the railroads through the area. McKinley Bridge was dedicated on Nov. 10, 1910.

Mrs. Painter said that many kinds of businesses and factories flourished in Venice. There even was a cigar factory, the Mohawk brand, run by John Fechte.

Another family, according to Mrs. Lee, which figured into the early history of Venice, was the Lee family. Dr. John Lee Sr., arrived in 1902, having just graduated from Keokuk College with his medical degree. He was elected mayor of Venice in 1911 and, with the exception of two years, served continuously until 1950. During his term of office, he instituted the practice of securing large quantities of shoes which were given to those who needed footwear. He also started the giving of Christmas baskets and he saw to it that the school children were vaccinated.

Helping to answer questions at the end of the speeches was Harry Buente, a long-time alderman of Venice, who has moved to Granite City only in the last few years. Many old photographs were placed on the tables for viewing before and after the meeting. The next meeting will be at the same location Jan. 4.

AFSCME president dies in surgery

Governor James R. Thompson issued the following statement last week on learning of the death of Jerry Wurt, president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME).

"Jerry Wurt was a leader who was committed to improving the working conditions and benefits of public employees. His 17 years of service to AFSCME were marked by foresight and a firm guiding hand for the future of his union. His leadership in the American labor movement will be missed and his achievements will be hard to duplicate. I am deeply saddened by his passing. Illinois has lost a friend," Thompson said.

Mr. Wurt, 62, died Thursday night of complications during stomach surgery. He became president of AFSCME in 1964, succeeding Col. Arnold Zander, the founder of the union. Previously, Mr. Wurt was director of New York AFSCME Council 37, the largest AFSCME union in the country.

He is survived by his wife, Mildred, and four children. AFSCME represents numerous governmental employees in this area, including most of the workers of Madison County and several Granite City employees, including all the city's policemen.

Social security retirement test affects benefits

By OLIVER HOLMES District Manager East St. Louis Social Security Office

You can work and still receive all of your Social Security benefits if you are 72 or older, regardless of how much money you earn.

If you're between the ages of 65 and 72, you can earn as much as $5,550 with no loss of benefits.

If you haven't reached the age of 65, you can earn up to $4,080 a year. For every $2 earned above these exempt amounts, we'll have to withhold $1 in Social Security payments.

If you plan to work while you receive Social Security checks, it's essential that you understand your obligations under the law. If you don't, you can make a costly mistake and wind up having to refund hundreds of dollars in improperly paid benefits.

We suggest that you take the following precautions:

First, try to estimate how much your gross wages will total for the entire year. By gross wages, we mean the amount before any deductions are made for such things as federal income tax or FICA contributions.

If it appears likely that the total will exceed the annual exempt amount shown above, then it's important that you contact your nearest Social Security office and file an estimate of your expected earnings. It can be done by telephone, mail or in person. How you do it is unimportant.

Based on your estimate, we'll be able to withhold enough benefits while you're working to avoid—or at least to minimize—an overpayment of Social Security benefits by the end of the year.

FOUR 1979 WARRANTS Questioned at a restaurant early Tuesday, Howard W. Richter, 26, of 1309 Madison Ave., Madison, was booked by Granite City police on 1979 warrants alleging battery, failure to obtain a firm owner identification card, and two counts of disorderly conduct.

Schools may sue to speed county's tax distributions

Pressure was exerted by the Granite City school district Tuesday night to speed up late distribution in Madison County.

A resolution adopted by the Board of Education placed the district on record as planning to initiate legal action—by itself or as a cooperative effort with other school districts—to collect interest accrued or monies held by the county collector, unless the following is achieved:

1. "That all real estate property tax revenues collected by the Madison County collector shall be distributed within 30 days after the due date and at 30-day intervals thereafter to the local taxing bodies."

2. "That the county collector shall pay to the appropriate taxing bodies a proportionate share of all interest accrued on monies held by the county collector in excess of 30 days after the due date and succeeding 30-day intervals thereafter said distribution of interest to be in conjunction with distribution of the principal amount of taxes."

The resolution asserted that the Granite City School Board "has given extensive consideration to the timely payment of real property tax revenues and the distribution of income on property tax revenues which are withheld and invested by the county collector."

"The board feels that the past practices of the Madison County collector regarding collection and distribution of real property tax revenue have not been acceptable."

"Be it resolved that the district will initiate legal action to collect interest or monies held unless the two provisions are adhered to, Sections 1 and 2 are consistent with Illinois Senate Bill 606, which constitutes an amendment to the Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 120, Section 701, consistent with the case of The Town of the City of Peoria vs. O'Connor."

"This 1981 case provides, in part, that county collectors should distribute income to the taxing bodies on a pro rata basis," the resolution concluded.

Supt. B. J. Davis noted that "at a recent meeting of the Madison County school district superintendents, a resolution was presented by the Alton school district which was recently passed by that district. "It pertains to tax collection and distribution to governmental agencies. It was the consensus of the superintendents that this should be presented to all boards of education for their consideration."

"As you know, we have been borrowing money because of cash flow problems, due to the slow distribution of tax monies. Last year, we did not receive our final payment of taxes until May, which meant we had to borrow monies to operate even though we had tax money due us."

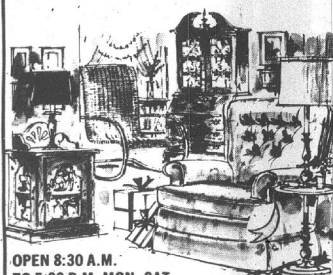

"The board should consider this and the possibility that we might want to join with other school systems in the county to seek legal redress if the situation, as experienced in recent years, continues."
